

SWEET SMELL OF MONEY NOT FOR THIS FELLOW

HONOLULU (UPI) — Clifford Fujiwara, 21, was a teller at a local bank until a doctor made a rather unusual discovery last week—Fujiwara is allergic to money.

His allergy did not come to light until recently when he ended a six-month hitch with the Army, and was transferred from the note department to teller. He couldn't stop sneezing and was plagued by headaches until the doctor diagnosed his allergy.

Now Fujiwara is working in the commercial department of the bank where the only money is recorded in ledgers.

How did he live with money all his life and not discover his allergy sooner? "I guess I never had my hands on so much for so long before becoming teller," he said.

Probation Is Given Bredahl

Jerald A. Bredahl, 30, former Fairfax service station operator, drew three years' probation today for assaulting a police officer with a deadly weapon (a station wagon) last July.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court suspended sentence and gave Bredahl probation on condition he seek and obtain employment and make restitution for any out-of-pocket expenses suffered by property owners and not covered by insurance.

Bredahl, who lived at 21 Park Road, went berserk on the night of July 17 and drove off in a station wagon. Police said the car nearly hit several persons including Police Sgt. Charles Grasso and Officer Lee Perry. The officers fired several shots at the car, and one of the bullets struck Bredahl in the head.

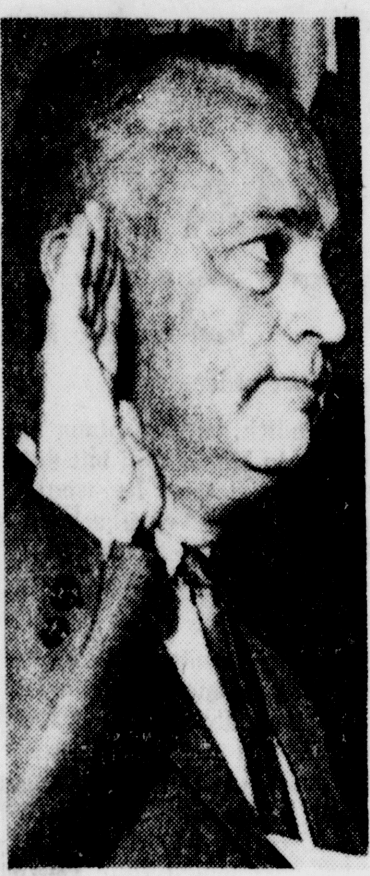

Marin County absolved the two officers of any blame in the shooting and indicted Bredahl for felony assault.

Richardson Bay Master Plan Offered

A master plan for a 288-acre project at Richardson Bay was presented today to the Marin County Planning Commission at the first of two public hearings.

The waterfront apartment house project is proposed by Alcan Marin Ltd. of Alto. Architect is John Lord King of Belvedere.

As described by principal planner David Van Pelt, the development would be on 23 acres of land and tidelots east of the Sausalito canal, near Enchanted Knolls and near the northern end of Richardson Bay bridge.

Rafferty, Mosk Take Their Oaths

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. Max Rafferty, 45, was sworn in today as California's 21st superintendent of public instruction, the first new school chief in 17 years.

Asst. Secretary of State Walter C. Stutler administered the oath.

A crowd of about 30 friends and well-wishers watched the ceremony in the secretary of state's office.

Rafferty's wife, Frances, participated in the ceremony. His three children remained in school. "After all," Rafferty quipped, "The State superintendent can't take his kids out of school for this, y'know."

Rafferty succeeds Roy E. Simpson, who retired after 17 years in the top state school job.

Also sworn in today was Gen. Stanley Mosk, who got the jump on other Democratic office holders.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson administered the oath before an overflow crowd in the courtroom of the Library and Courts Building.

Water Lands 'Green Belt' Zone Delayed

"Green belt" zoning for nearly 17,000 acres of Marin Municipal Water District lands was delayed for another six months today by 5-2 vote of the Marin County Planning Commission.

Consideration was put off until July 1 to give the district a chance to negotiate possible sale of land near Mount Tamalpais state park to the state Division of Beaches and Parks.

CUT NUMBER

"If you cut down the number of uses for the land now, the value will be cut down," Samuel W. Gardiner, MMWD attorney, told the commission at today's public hearing, attended by about 25 conservationists and homeowners.

William R. Seeger, the district's general manager, said state representatives are to begin discussion of the land transfer Jan. 17.

Richard Goldsmith of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club objected, "there is nothing to preclude the state's acquiring the land regardless of zoning."

HETHERTON SPEAKS

Pat Hetherton, San Rafael planning commission chairman, speaking for the Marin Conservation League, said he strongly questioned the contention that land value would be reduced by the open area zoning, but he said the request for a delay nonetheless seemed reasonable.

"Nobody seems really opposed to the zoning," said chairman William Upton. "And I see no objection to continue the matter until there is a chance for the district and state to negotiate."

Commissioners George Johnston and Felix M. Warburg disagreed, voted against any delay in putting the lands under zoning which would restrict uses to recreation and limited farming.

The commission voted, again 5-2, to put about 700 acres of North Marin County water district land in open area zoning.

"We may as well get something under this zoning," commented Upton. Commissioners Niels M. Schwartz and George Scott dissented, saying all lands should be left until more is known about state interests in more park land.

The north Marin land is in the area of Stafford dam.

Are Marin Cats Being Sold Out?

About 15 cats have been reported stolen since the end of October from the area in Terra Linda bounded by Whitewood Drive, Wakerobin Lane and Wisteria Way, it was disclosed today.

Irving Sousa, chief deputy of the Marin County Humane Society, said he was investigating rumors that the cats were being sold in Santa Rosa for 50 cents apiece.

He said there was no evidence of the cats being poisoned, since none of the bodies had been found.

The latest theft was reported Friday by Mrs. Jean Hammond of 552 Wisteria Way. She said her Siamese cat had previously disappeared Halloween afternoon, only to return a few hours later with the fur on its tail burned.

Brown Sworn In For Second Term, Vows 'Bold' Program

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Edmund G. Brown offered "bold, controversial leadership" and a 47-point program of legislation as he was sworn in this afternoon for his second term as governor of California.

Speaking before a crowd of chilled spectators gathered around a specially constructed platform at the west entrance to the State Capitol, Governor Brown declared he "will invite and expect disagreement" with his program—for, he said, he and the legislators have not reached a "community of understanding" as to priorities for the problems facing them. "I will not seek controversy, but I will not fear it," Brown said. "The greater the debate, the more thorough the education, and the more effective the ### workings of our democratic process."

He spoke directly to the 1963 legislative session, which convened at noon and then adjourned out of doors to hear him. He was sworn in for another four years as governor by Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the California Supreme Court.

Also sworn in were Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Controller Alan Cranston and Treasurer Bert Betts, all Democrats. The only Republican state official, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, quietly took the oath in his own office which he has occupied for 20 years, saying, "I can't see wasting time with all this whoopla and cannon shooting stuff."

The cannon shooting to which he referred was a 19-gun salute, a part of the band music, posting of the colors by the National Guard and other activities featuring the unique ceremonies. Usually the swearing-in and inaugural address is conducted in the State Assembly chambers.

But today's festivities were to continue well into tomorrow morning. Tonight there will be a formal dress inaugural party in the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium featuring Hollywood entertainers topped by Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Jimmy Durante, Joe Stafford, Dorothy Dandridge, Steve Allen, Gene Kelly and Joey Bishop. Then the whole party will move to the El Dorado Hotel where two bands will play for dancing until the wee small hours.

Governor Brown, in his 14-page inaugural address, as### signed "first priority to public education."

But he did this only after assuring the legislators that his annual budget message, which will be delivered later this month, "will be balanced; that it will call for tax reforms but no new or higher taxes" and that it will call for "elimination of income taxes for families of four or more earning less than $5,700 per year."

Best estimates were that this budget will exceed $3 billion dollars for the first time in the state's history. And he declared he also would ask for a bond issue on the 1964 ballot "for the purchase of park and beach land for future development."

The 57-year old governor broke his requests for legislation up into 12 sections. Here's what he proposed:

EDUCATION

Enactment of a county-wide tax equalization formula and an earmarking of all new state education funds for equalization rather than basic assistance. He pledged "substantial new state contributions" to "ease the property taxpayers' burden."

Overhaul vocational training and adding high level technological instruction.

A pilot youth conservation work program for youths who have left school without graduating.

Special attention to children who live in an "economic atmosphere hostile to learning" and assuming responsibility for "the culturally disadvantaged."

Improved library services throughout the state and a

McCARTHY IS AGAIN MINORITY LEADER

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy was re-elected minority leader of the California State Senate at a break-fast caucus of Senate Republicans today.

He was also appointed to the powerful rules committee and elected its vice chairman.

In his first statement following the start of his sixth year as Republican leader, McCarthy criticized Gov. Edmund G. Brown for "brazen attempts to fool the people" in his inaugural address today.

"The governor makes a solemn promise of no new or increased taxes," McCarthy declared. "Then he says 'we must increase social insurance minimums.' Any school boy knows that social insurance benefits are paid entirely out of taxes. If you increase the benefits, you increase the taxes."

He also called Brown's demand for reform in the savings and loan industry "downright ridiculous. The governor appoints the people who have control of this industry," he said.

With these and other parts of his address, "Governor Brown is just trying to fool California's taxpayers," McCarthy concluded. "I don't think they're in a mood for games."

Navy Man Arrested For Bomb Hoax

Roger Steven Miller, 19, of San Rafael, a naval air corpsman stationed at Jacksonville, Fla., was charged yesterday with making a false bomb threat aboard an airliner.

He was flying from Chicago to Florida when he told a stewardess in a "joking manner" that he had a bomb in his suitcase.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, taking a dim view of the jest, arrested him in Atlanta, Ga., and took him before a U.S. commissioner. Miller was released on $200 bail.

Miller formerly lived in the Golf Tract in San Rafael. He is a son of Mrs. Ted Rosenberg of 4 Darian Way, San Rafael.

Swedish Troops Make Congo Gain

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Swedish troops of the United Nations Congo forces have swept 115 miles north of the U.N. Kamina air base to seize more territory of the secessionist province, a U.N. spokesman said today.

U.N. Undersecretary General Ralph Bunche, refusing even to talk with Katanga president Moise Tshombe, continued his military discussions in Elisabethville with the ranking U.N. officers in The Congo.

The central government was moving to bring Katanga back into The Congo. Premier Cyrille Adoulla today signed official papers aimed at instituting Leopoldville control over Katanga and creating a single currency for The Congo.

Except for the swift advance of the Swedish strike force from Kamina, the military situation appeared quiet. There was no further reports of U.N. movements northwest from Jadotville along the 80-mile road to Tshombe's Kolwezi headquarters.

U.N. reports said the Swedish force had reached the town of Kaniama. Kaniama is near the destroyed Lubilash bridge which linked Katanga with the rest of The Congo to the north.

Katangese forces blew up the center wooden span of the Lubilash railway bridge last week. Re-spanning of the river would permit troops of the central Congolese government to cross into Katanga if that became necessary.

The U.N. reports said the local tribal chief there had assured the U.N. of his cooperation.

Unruh Is Re-Elected Speaker As State Legislature Convenes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Legislature convened at noon today for a six-month session. A near-record crop of freshmen joined hold-over members in re-electing Democratic leaders of both houses.

The Assembly, 52-28 Democratic, retained Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Speaker Pro Tem Carlos Bee (D-Hayward). Jerome Waldie (D-Antioch) will continue as Democratic majority leader.

Unruh, the portly "Big Daddy" of Democratic politics, received a 77-3 vote. Three members abstained—himself, Robert E. Badham (R-Costa Mesa) and Harvey Johnson (D-El Monte).

The Senate, 27-13 Democratic, re-elected veteran Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) as president pro tem and majority leader.

Senate Republicans again chose John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) to be minority leader. Assembly Republicans planned to caucus later in the day to pick their floor leader—probably Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks).

Burns said he expects it to be a "hold-the-line" session because of a financial squeeze. The biggest job, he says, will be balancing a three-billion-dollar budget without increased taxes as pledged by Gov. Brown.

The senate leader said he thinks it can be done, but there will be no money left for expanded or new programs.

The hottest issue aside from the budget is expected to be public education — an issue which the 43-man freshman class, largest since 1935, appears unusually well qualified to handle.

Most of the freshmen are college graduates, including two doctors of philosophy, several scientists and engineers.

Ceylon, Red China Confer On India

TOKYO (AP)—A communique issued in Peking today said Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike of Ceylon have agreed on terms they thought would help solve the Chinese-Indian border dispute.

The communique, broadcast by the New China news agency, said the two sides had decided to keep details secret until Mrs. Bandaranaike talks with Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Eisenhower Asks For Cut In Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he would like to see "a very substantial" cut in income taxes, but a cut accompanied by a reduction in federal spending "right across the board."

Eisenhower said all government spending was "going up too fast" and should be cut, particularly on non-defense items.

The former president made his remarks in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report in which he also said the Cuban situation is "far from being solved" as long as Premier Fidel Castro remains in power.

Two Drivers Collide, But Not Autos

Their cars did not collide, but the two drivers did, and one of them landed in a hospital with severe head and back injuries suffered when a third man entered the fray swinging a pole.

Robin McKinley Holloway, 42, of 421 D Street, San Rafael, was in "fair condition" at Marin General Hospital today. The two other participants were John Piaszk, 38, of Forest Knolls, a maintenance man, and his employee, Jessie L. Hightower, 21, also of Forest Knolls.

Sheriff's Deputy Wade R. Powell got this account of the fight:

Piaszk and Hightower were driving up White's Hill yesterday and noticed Holloway's car driving so slowly ahead of them that several cars were being held back.

When Holloway turned off into Woodacre, Piaszk drove after him.

Holloway said the other car crossed the double line and cut in front of him, forcing him to stop. Both drivers jumped out of their cars, and the fight was on.

Hightower noticed that his boss was getting the worse of the fight, and so he grabbed a window brush pole and began beating Holloway. After the beating, the two maintenance men drove off.

Deputy Powell said Holloway suffered a gash on the forehead that required 13 stitches, and a lacerated right hand.

Piaszk admitted being in the fight but maintained that Holloway struck the first blow.

Britain Denies Jets Slipped Past U. S. Radar Net

LONDON (AP)—London news-papers said today swift British jets slipped past U.S. defenses recently in a mock H-bomb attack that could have wiped out major cities, including New York, Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles. U.S. and British officials denied the report.

Four British newspapers said the exercise was carried out by four Vulcan bombers about two months ago. The bombers fly up to 600 miles an hour.

A spokesman for the North American Defense Command in the United States termed the report a lot of nonsense.

The British Air Ministry first said an exercise took place about two months ago but declined to say whether it was a success. Then, after some apparent confusion, the ministry came around to the official American version.

"Reports referring to an exercise a couple of months ago are wrong," an Air Ministry spokesman said.

"The last occasion on which we took part in an exercise of this kind was in an operation referred to as Skyshield II, about Oct. 14, 1961. That exercise was a joint operation designed to test defenses."

The spokesman declined to comment when asked if British bombers penetrated North America's radar network in the 1961 exercise.

The newspaper claims con-tained several important strategic implications, particularly that the manned bomber has many more years of useful life as a nuclear deterrent.

Vulcans were to have been used to carry the new-scraped Skybolt. They will carry the improved Blue Streak stand-off bomb, which is to be the basis of Britain's independent nuclear deterrent until it is equipped with Polaris mis-siles.

The Daily Express, Sketch, Telegraph and Herald all re-ported the strike.

"Had the attack been real, it would have wiped out several major American cities, including Los Angeles, Chicago and New York," the Herald said.

The Express said it under-stood the operation succeeded because the Delta-wing Vul-cans were so fast and appar-ently flew at an altitude of about 12 miles.

It said some of the Vulcans were fitted with electronic counter-measures to keep American patrol planes from detecting the strike.

In Denver, Maj. Ford Daw-son, a spokesman for the North American Defense Command

(NORAD), said there was no truth to the newspaper reports. He termed them "just a lot of nonsense."

Dawson said it was not the purpose of the Royal Air Force to pierce U.S. air defenses. Whenever flights were made over the United States, he said, advance warning is given to prevent Allied planes from being mistaken for enemy craft.

THIS WEEK In The World

Dismal Weather In Most Of U.S.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dismal weather—cloudy, foggy and wet—covered most of the eastern half of the nation and sections of the West today.

On the brighter side of the weather pattern, temperatures were fairly mild for this time of year.

Light rain or drizzle sprinkled the Gulf Coast and along the East Coast south of Cape Hatteras, N. C.

Light snow, freezing drizzle and drizzle dampened the Great Lakes region.

Death On A Snowy Slope

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—A sleek, snow-covered slope was too inviting for three 15-year-old hikers to pass up.

None of them knew the slope concealed the edge of a 300-foot high cliff.

John Martin Tschantre of Van Nuys tried the slope first and slid on the seat of his pants to a stop short of the cliff edge.

Robert D. Slafter and John Iosue, both of Van Nuys, followed Tschantre and vanished over the precipice. Slafter died and Iosue suffered head injuries.

Christmas Celebrated In Russia

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russian Orthodox Church celebrated the birth of Christ today in long, elaborate services in churches throughout this officially atheistic nation.

Thousands attended the services despite Soviet press attempts to dampen religious enthusiasm by publishing articles depicting Christmas a myth and disputing Christ ever lived.

The Russian church follows the old Julian calendar in which Christmas falls on Jan. 7, 13 days after it is celebrated in the west.

City Hall Burns

IONE (UPI)—The 42-year-old city hall of this Amador County community went up in flames late Saturday, but firemen and townspeople managed to save the city records and considerable furniture.

The one-story frame structure housed a dance floor and roller skating rink in addition to the city offices. Authorities estimated the loss at $22,000.

The fire was discovered about 20 minutes after the skating rink closed for the night. Firemen blamed the blaze on an overheated wood stove.

Supermarket Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An explosion and three-alarm fire destroyed the one-story Star Supermarket here late last night.

The blaze was brought under control at midnight by 140 firemen and 30 pieces of equipment.

Crash Claims Six

TREVOSE, Pa. (UPI)—Six persons were killed last night when an automobile crossed a median strip on U.S. 1 near the entrance to the Pennsylvania Turnpike and collided with an oncoming car.

Four other persons were in critical condition today at a hospital.

Nine Die In Collision

WARSAW (UPI)—At least nine persons were killed and 40 injured today when two trains crashed into a bus in fog near the northwestern Polish city of Bydgoszcz, the Polish radio reported.

The bus, carrying 70 passengers, was struck as it crossed a rail crossing while the gates, normally down when a train is approaching, were raised, the radio said.

The two trains, traveling in opposite directions, struck the bus and pushed it nearly 300 yards from the crash site.

Five Die In Fire

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Five guests who tried to escape a wall of flames by creeping down a staircase were burned to death today when fire flashed through a 150-year-old residence hotel.

Many of the other guests at the Central Hotel escaped the fire by jumping out of windows and off the roof of the three-story building. Seven persons were injured.

Neighbors, who were awakened by the screams of the guests, summoned firemen. When firefighters arrived, the hotel was completely enveloped in flames.

New School Head

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 46-year-old native San Franciscan has been named to succeed the Very Rev. John F. X. Connolly, S.J., as president of the University of San Francisco, the school announced Sunday.

He is the Very Rev. Charles W. Dullea, S.J., who becomes 20th president of the university, founded in 1855.

Father Dullea, the son of San Francisco's police chief from 1940-47, Charles W. Dullea, has been rector of the Jesuit community at the school since 1958.

Father Connolly was named provincial of the California Province of the Society of Jesus.

OKLAHOMAN GOVERNOR FOR WEEK

Friend Of Kennedy Gets Senate Post

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Howard Edmondson, a friend of President John F. Kennedy, resigned yesterday as governor of Oklahoma and was appointed to the U.S. Senate, succeeding the late Robert S. Kerr.

George Nigh, 35, the lieutenant governor who moved up to the governor's office and appointed Edmondson, said Kennedy told him he would be personally pleased by the appointment.

Nigh said he telephoned the president, who is vacationing at Palm Beach, Fla., before Edmondson resigned and told him Edmondson would be named to the Senate.

The administration can expect solid support from Edmondson, 37, a Democrat who backed Kennedy for the presidential nomination in 1960.

Nigh, also a Democrat, will be governor for only one week. Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma's first Republican governor, takes office next Monday.

Sources close to Edmondson said that when Kennedy came to Oklahoma City Friday for Kerr's funeral he urged the governor to take the Senate seat.

Kerr, a Democrat who was known as the uncrowned king of the Senate, died of a heart attack in Washington New Year's Day.

As Edmondson gathered his supporters at the governor's mansion to make the switch,

U.S. Army Aides Complain Of Viet 'Poor Performance'

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—U.S. military advisers complained bitterly today about the poor performance of South Vietnamese troops in the battle against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas last week.

They said one Vietnamese infantry battalion flatly refused to advance on the Communist-held hamlet of Ap Bac even though Vietnamese and American officers at division headquarters ordered and pleaded for hours.

"It was a miserable damn performance," said one adviser.

Others spoke of a marked "lack of aggressiveness" among Vietnamese commanders to push the attack. They ignored recommendations of their American advisers. The chain of command broke down in the 7th Vietnamese division.

The result, according to American officers, was a needlessly high government casualty toll of 65 dead and 100 wounded. Americans suffered three dead and 10 wounded.

The guerrillas, although outnumbered six to one, escaped with far fewer casualties than the government forces.

The battalion that refused to advance on Ap Bac had lost its commander. He was wounded and evacuated. Other officers refused to assume command. An American Army captain was killed while he was out front trying to lead the battalion to attack.

Voting In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—President Joao Goulart appeared only partially successful today in his referendum drive to get more power from the people for his government.

Rio newspapers said early returns from yesterday's nationwide plebiscite, aimed at returning Brazil to the presidential form of government and thus stiffening Goulart's control over the country, were inconclusive.

What is said to be the highest wind velocity ever recorded was measured at 231 miles per hour atop the 6,288-foot Mt. Washington in New Hampshire on April 12, 1934.

MEREDITH MAY LEAVE CLASSES AT OLE MISS

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—James Meredith said today he does not plan to register for the next semester at the University of Mississippi unless the school takes steps to ease the harassment that has made life at Ole Miss difficult for him.

Meredith, first Negro knowingly admitted to the university, said he does not plan to register for the spring semester "unless very definite and positive changes are made to make my situation more conducive to learning."

There long have been reports that Meredith is having extreme difficulty with his classes, largely due to the pressure that has been all around him since his entrance on the campus during rioting the night of Sept. 30 caused two deaths and brought thousands of federal troops to the campus.

Meredith said the decision not to continue unless his conditions are met "was based on a consideration of all the elements pertinent to the 'Mississippi crisis' and its deepest meaning and of all the aspects of my personal relationships in it, with it and to it."

Meredith, in a statement given to newsmen called to his dormitory room this morning, emphasized that his decision "is not to attend the university next semester under the present circumstances." He said, "I have not made a decision to discontinue my efforts to receive educational training at the University of Mississippi."

"We are engaged in a war, a bitter war for the equality of opportunity for our citizens," Meredith said. "The enemy is determined, resourceful and unprincipled."

The harassment that has made life on the campus a difficult one for the 29-year-old Kosciusko, Miss., native was emphasized last night when crudely printed handbills were distributed on the campus calling for "separation of the coon from the curriculum" and the impeachment "and execution" of President John F. Kennedy for backing Meredith's entry into the university under federal court order.

Meredith said he plans to remain in Mississippi but did not say whether he would transfer to a Negro school. His wife attends Jackson State College for Negroes in Jackson, Miss.

Meredith handed the statement to newsmen just before leaving the dormitory, Baxter Hall, for his morning classes. He said, "I will have nothing further to say about this matter until after the end of the semester at which time I will be free to answer any questions and acknowledge any requests."

Semester examinations begin next week and the new semester begins the first week in February.

The school and Meredith persistently have refused to discuss his grades but just as persistent have been reports that he is having difficulties with his school work.

UPI reporter Al Kuettner reported last month after interviewing students and school officials that although by intensive studying Meredith could pass his courses "he is a good candidate to flunk out."

At that time university sources said that Meredith was a reasonably intelligent student but was having trouble concentrating in an atmosphere where his life was literally in constant peril.

CITY OF BOLINAS? LITTLE ENTHUSIASM

The idea of incorporating Bolinas—or perhaps Bolinas and Stinson Beach as a single city—aroused little enthusiasm at a meeting of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Assn. Saturday night at its Mesa Club-house.

About 50 members heard John H. Nail, city manager of Newark, Alameda County, give general information about incorporating. The association president, John Lancaster, said the meeting was for information only and the association was not ready to take any stand on incorporation.

Nail said city governments are closer to the people and respond more quickly to their needs than do county governments. Such needs as planning, better police and fire protection and other services often motivate creation of cities, he said.

Association members speaking most strongly in favor of incorporation was Erling O. Edwards, first vice president. He said he had been studying the idea since last summer and it was his idea to bring Nail as speaker.

If the citizens want to pursue the idea of incorporation, Nail said, a committee should be created to study it, then a consultant should be brought in for more specialized study.

In the question period, it was evident some citizens were thinking of incorporating both Bolinas and Stinson Beach as one city. One asked if the population of this area, about 1,200, would be enough for a city. Nail said population is not the only consideration in incorporation. He said there have been cities of this size created in California.

Another asked about a community service district in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area, as a step toward incorporation. Nail said a community services district is hard to get rid of once created. He said it would tend to block rather than lead to incorporation.

Asked afterward if further meetings on incorporation are planned, Lancaster only smiled and said, "We'll see." But Edwards said he was convinced incorporation should be tried.

College Band Concert Good Performance

By Maybelle Speckmann

One of the best ensemble performances heard recently at the College of Marin was the college's community band concert Saturday night under direction of John H. Myers.

For the first time in our experience at musical events in Olney Hall, there was standing room only, and with the brasses heavily represented, for once acoustics were no problem.

In the 50-member band, made up of players of all ages, the instruments of the wind family and their individual tonal colors were well balanced—a remarkable feat for a small community aggregation.

But it was the good tonal quality of the brasses—the backbone of any band—that contributed most to the total effect. Worthy of special mention was the trumpet section, particularly its leader, Don Milmore.

Overall performance showed discipline and fine esprit de corps. This resulted in strong rhythmic rapport, clean attacks and releases generally, except for some ragged entrances on some phrases, and some electrifying climaxes.

Success was partly due to programming of a majority of works of original composition for band and exclusion of too many "war horses" of Sousa and others.

The most effective performance was in "the first suite in E Flat for Band" by Gustav Holst, and the least, in our opinion at least, the selections from "West Side Story" by Leonard Bernstein.

A contemporary work of unusual interest was Samuel Barber's "Command March."

Wheels Stolen

Juveniles wanting to make scooters are blamed for taking the rubber wheels off the market baskets at Brice Brothers Market in Marin City, according to the sheriff's office. Phillip Rosenstock, manager of the store, reported the loss now is estimated at $250 to replace the missing wheels.

German 'Sin City' Straightened Out

By LOYAL GOULD

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany (AP)—The German B-girl slammed her fist on the bar and said business was bad. "The GIs still have the money but they have too many other things to do now. They don't take as much interest in us and the bars," she complained.

The girl sat in an almost empty saloon in Kaiserslautern's Stein Strasse. The street is off limits for American troops after 7 p.m.

This city in southwestern Germany used to be known among Americans as "sin town." With 75,000 Americans—military personnel and dependents—it is the largest American community outside the United States. But it has changed.

The B-girl explained: "There were good times when the money really poured in, but that's all part of the past now."

Until a few years ago, Kaiserslautern reported 2,000 to 3,000 prostitutes. Police say about 100 remain.

Kaiserslautern had one of the highest rates in Europe of incidents involving U.S. soldiers. There were frequent stabbings, shootings and rapes as well as race riots between white and Negro American soldiers.

"The Kaiserslautern newspapers published some mighty angry editorials against the Americans here," said Manfred Stichter, head of Kaiserslautern police.

"But since Col. Plahte moved in, the editorials center largely on domestic and foreign politics."

Col. Fred L. Plahte took over this strategic North Atlantic Treaty Organization post charged with defending a 1,200-square-mile area between the Rhine River and the French border three years ago.

At that time, irate local residents claimed Kaiserslautern was "about the closest thing to hell on earth you can imagine."

Known as a no-nonsense and aloof soldier, Plahte applied what a sergeant called "firmness coupled with fairness" to straighten out the situation.

Plahte began by visiting the units in his command and lecturing on a favorite theme, "the American diplomat in uniform."

"Don't forget," he is fond of saying, "that when you wear that uniform your every action reflects on the United States."

"And any man casting dishonor on our country can expect disciplinary action."

Associates say Plahte goes over every court-martial case in his command and makes no distinction between officers and enlisted men facing trial. Plahte inspected personally every bar in the Kaiserslautern area frequented by American troops.

Within nine months, nearly two dozen off-limits bars closed down for lack of business.

Joint American-German committees were formed to attack the problem. These now include a group consisting of American officers, German clergymen, politicians and civic leaders; an organization of German newspapermen and U.S. Army press officers and a venereal disease control committee.

Plahte also began an intensive recreational and educational program for his men to keep them away from the city's night life.

Soldiers may now choose among service clubs, libraries, craft shops, bowling alleys, theaters, gymnasiums, photo centers, rod and gun clubs, golf courses, a dozen athletic programs and various school classes.

Save-Galley Rally Collects Money

Sausalito's save-the-galley rally, now in its second week, is continuing full blast.

Juanita Musson, owner of the 24-hour-a-day Juanita's Galley aboard the former ferry boat, Charles Van Damme at Waldo Point, said today that $900 was collected over the weekend and that there is yet about $900 to go.

The final $900 will be enough to keep the galley from being closed by the Internal Revenue Service. Miss Musson owes the government $4,497 in back withholding taxes for employees.

The rally consists mainly of music and other entertainment.

Woman Washed What She Wore

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A woman was seen in a coin laundry late one warm night, clutching a coat around her as she stood near a drier.

The machine stopped and she gathered up a handful of articles of clothing from the machine.

She stepped into a restroom and emerged minutes later, carrying the coat, but no laundry.

Orthodox Worshippers Have 'Christmas' Mass

Russian Orthodox worshippers of Marin County today celebrated the birth of Christ according to the Julian calendar, with a Mass and feast at St. Nicholas Church in San Anselmo.

Today's attendance, however, was much smaller than at Christmas Eve observances held last night because many Russian Orthodox people had to be at their jobs in accordance with the Gregorian calendar.

About 100 attended last night's services, traditionally said because Christ had not yet been born. A five-week fasting period preceded the Russian Christmas.

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Tommy, a white Angora cat, has a mind of his own.

"The minute we started to raise the ladder the cat backed right down the tree," said a fireman.

Overeager Fish Defeated Cain

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP)—Richard Cain caught a pound-and-a-half black bass at a lake here and if it hadn't been for two teen-agers he would have won a cash prize for the biggest bass of the week.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition. The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONOID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief: (1) COLONOID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement." (2) COLONOID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONOID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain. COLONOID even relieves chronic constipation overnight; yet it is clinically-proved gentle even for expectant mothers. Get COLONOID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43c.

'Bold Leadership' Offered By Governor At Inaugural

statewide educational television network operated by state funds.

URBAN-STATE RELATIONSHIPS

Laws to end haphazard formation of new cities and districts.

Allow development of governmental units on a regional basis.

Laws to encourage regional planning.

Reduce the requirement for passing a local bond issue from 66 2/3 per cent to 60 per cent.

The soon-due report of the Governor's Advisory Commission on Housing Problems will offer several "concrete proposals" and the governor will release a "separate message asking for specific action" on its recommendations.

STATE ECONOMICS

Create an Office of California Development by combining the Economic Development Agency and the World Trade Authority to exploit the state's economic potential, accelerate efforts to get new industry, create new foreign and domestic markets, and "maintain our first rank in tourism."

Make the Committee on Automation and Technology Development into a full commission to "determine the new skills we will need in the future to insure that California's work force remains equal to the demands of the space age."

Group and expand all vocational rehabilitation agencies into a single state department in the Health and Welfare Agency, increase social insurance minimums, and "move more vigorously to retrain the disabled worker as well as the worker displaced by automation."

MENTAL HEALTH

Increase the state's contribution to new local mental health programs under Short-Doyle from 50 to 75 per cent.

Major changes will be suggested in the welfare programs by the Governor's Commission on Social Welfare Problems and a special message will be sent the legislature later with these recommendations.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Interest rate statutes are obsolete and should be rewritten. "Interest rates for charge accounts and other loans are excessive" and should be re-examined.

Cost of natural gas is too high and should be lowered.

Reforms are necessary in the savings and loan industry to "apply greater control both to the issuance of charters and to the operating practices."

CONSERVATION

Apply strict controls on placement of billboards as a step to "produce great dividends in scenic beauty."

Take the lead in improving the quality of architecture, both public and private. "I intend to insist on the highest quality of design for state buildings."

Amend state law to permit the purchase of scenic easements along a 5,000 mile scenic highway system.

Put a bond issue on the 1964 ballot to purchase park and beach land for future development. "I will send detailed recommendations to you for a the methods of financing it in the near future."

Legislation to "actively foster interest and participation in the performing and graphic arts."

all water projects being built.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

Permit the California Highway Patrol to use radar for speed control.

Authorize a trial number of unmarked CHP cars.

Require chemical tests of all drivers suspected of drunk driving.

Make seat belts mandatory in all cars.

CRIMINAL LAW

Revise the 90-year-old California Penal Code to assure the state of "a forward, enlightened and just criminal law with fair and expeditious procedures."

Make penalties for sales of dangerous drugs comparable to the penalties for illegal sale of narcotics.

Permit compulsory treatment of persons under 18 for narcotic addiction; it is now available only to adults.

Define insanity "in the light of advanced scientific knowledge."

Declare a moratorium on capital punishment except to protect the staffs and inmates of penal institutions; substituting for the death penalty a life sentence without possibility of parole.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

Expand the Fair Employment Practices Commission into a Human Rights Commission with authority to act against all discrimination in housing.

Eliminate "de facto segregation" in our public schools.

Wipe out "all vestiges" of discrimination in state government by an executive order and by laws requiring "strict policies against discrimination" by all businesses and persons licensed by the state.

POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

Overhaul political procedures in an effort to reduce the "excessive cost" of campaigning.

Enact a purity of elections law to require candidates to list the amount of each person's contribution as well as his name.

Pass the proposed U.S. Constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax.

STATE GOVERNMENT

Streamline state government through a "series of major reorganization steps" he will propose as the session progresses.

Simplify the State Constitution under procedures made possible by passage of Proposition 7 at the November election.

Establish "reasonable exceptions" to the law which prevents damage suits against state and local government, but "also establish careful limits" to limit potential costs.

End the special privilege of utility companies on property needed for water projects so they will be treated just the same as an non-utility property owner.

Establish a Joint Tax Commission to review the state's entire tax structure and recommend reforms and revisions. There now is "too great a share" on local property taxpayers.

"What we do may not have its full impact on our own lives," the governor declared. "Our children and their children will be a better judge of what we do."

"This golden state, a symbol of man's striving toward a better life, shall not only lead our nation, but deserve to lead in the challenging time before us," the governor concluded.

3 Say Clausen Dodging Appearances

Three leaders of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club today charged Donald H. Clausen, Republican candidate for Congress, with dodging public speaking appearances.

Jacques J. Nadler, club president, and Martin Friedman and Mrs. Jo Schlesinger, members, said in a joint statement that Clausen has refused to appear on the same platform with Democratic candidate William F. Grader at a public meeting to be held under club auspices at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 15 in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

In addition, they said, "Clausen's campaign committee has consistently refused to let him speak in public."

Only explanation given for his refusal to appear on the Mill Valley platform, said the joint statement, "was that he did not plan to campaign 'that way.'"

"That way" appears to mean exposing his ideas, or ignorance, to public scrutiny. We like to meet a candidate and form our own opinion about him rather than limit ourselves to his campaign committee's publicity . . .

"Mr. Clausen appears almost a robot candidate. He is allowed to shake hands and greet people."

The club leaders' statement said Clausen had also refused to speak before the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin, Ukiah and Santa Rosa; the Stinson Beach Progressive Club; the Mill Valley Awareness Group, and the Fortuna Chamber of Commerce, and had turned down debates with Grader on radio station KTIM and two Eureka television stations.

Walter J. Brown, assistant campaign coordinator at Clausen for Congress headquarters in San Rafael, denied Clausen was refusing speaking engagements.

The reason for not accepting the Homestead invitation, said Brown, "is because we're booked up solid. We have been for weeks."

Brown said that, in addition to speaking engagements, Clausen is doing much door-to-door campaigning. He said the Republican candidate could not appear on the radio KTIM program because he was busy that day.

Asked when Clausen's next

Marin public appearance would be, Brown said he would speak before the San Rafael Rotary Club today. (The speaker at the San Rafael Rotary Club luncheon today was Dr. Gerald E. Hill, booked by Fred R. Dickson, program chairman, to discuss the Marin Medical Society's program of anti-cigarette education in schools. Dickson said he had heard nothing about Clausen's planning to appear before the club.)

The season's the reason: When the temperature drops, you spend more time indoors . . . need more heat . . . keep lights burning longer . . . cook more hot meals . . . watch more television. TOUR STARTS—Ambassadors and delegates to the United Nations scan Civic Center brochure before starting a 15-minute tour of the building Saturday.

The tour consisted of wandering through the deserted building in small groups. Many snapped pictures of the structure and of their companions.

U.N. Delegates Approve Civic Center

By PHIL FRADKIN

The stamp of approval was given the Marin County Civic Center Saturday by its most distinguished group of visitors yet: 32 United Nations ambassadors and delegates from 25 countries.

Even the Russian delegate, Vladimir Brykin, commented as he was leaving the building, "It is an interesting building."

He was followed by the Ukrainian delegate, Yuri M. Malseiko, who echoed, "Yes, that is the general impression."

The delegates and ambassadors were more vocal in their praise of Marin's warm sunshine. They arrived in San Francisco Friday night from New York, where snow and freezing temperatures are prevailing, to begin an 11-day tour of California and Nevada.

First stop on the tour was the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, where they ate lunch Saturday. They arrived at the Civic Center at 2:35 p.m. and, after a 15-minute tour which consisted of wandering around inside the deserted building, departed for Muir Woods.

The Russian delegate, who said he was interested to know about all styles of architecture, said most of Russia's new buildings were being constructed in the Black Sea area.

Asked if Russian government workers would enjoy working in such a building as the Civic Center, Brykin replied, "For everybody it would be pleasant to work in this building."

U. N. Ambassador Matrika P. Koirala of Nepal, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Culler of 17 Heuters Lane, Mill Valley, during his two-day stay in the Bay Area, commented: "It is very unique. I have seen nothing like it before."

Koirala, however, spotted a motif of roundness which he said was similar to the Guggenheim Museum in New York, also designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

The tour was lead by John K. Robinson of 345 Hazel Ave.

Ketch Sails Contentedly Along Ocean

The 45-foot ketch Neophyte, manned by an all-girl crew of four supervised by skipper Lee Quinn, proceeded on its way today in silence after radioing Saturday night, "continuing to Honolulu contentedly."

This was the first word from the ketch, which sailed from Sausalito on Dec. 27, since a radio message was picked up two days later off the Monterey coast reporting that the crew was "very seasick."

The radio message from Quinn, picked up by the Coast Guard weather ship November, said, "Crew on board checked out in all phases."

The Neophyte at the time the message was received was about 600 miles southwest of San Francisco—approximately one-quarter of the way to Honolulu.

Recorded Sermon Converts A Thief

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The pastor of a South Miami Methodist Church received a telephone call from a man who said he had stolen a tape recorder from the church.

The thief admitted he played a tape on the machine and heard a sermon the pastor had delivered, calling on sinners to mend their ways. The sermon had convinced the thief and he told the pastor the name of a service station where he would leave the recorder.

PARKING, BUSES ON COUNCIL AGENDA

An off-street parking report, the operation of buses in San Rafael, and the procedure to follow on the appeal of Nick Giampoli on his discharge from the police department headline 22 items on the agenda for the San Rafael City Council meeting at 8 p.m. today.

The meeting will also include public hearings on the Chula Vista and Ross Street assessment districts.

D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento will submit his report on San Rafael's off-street parking needs and how they can be met. A preliminary report was presented verbally to a council committee at a luncheon meeting last month.

Marin Transit Authority has been operating buses on routes including Fourth Street under a temporary 60-day authorization. Whether the routes may be made permanent will be discussed tonight.

County Board Due Report On Data Processing Use

A final report on the role data processing machines played in Marin County's voter registration for the Nov. 6 general election will be given tomorrow to the county board of supervisors.

Fair, Isaac and Co. of San Francisco will present its report and "operating notes" to the board at 11:30 a.m. and will ask for a final payment of $7,500 for consultation services in setting up the data processing program for the election.

Other items on the agenda for the meeting, which opens at 9 a.m., include discussion of a 1963-64 budget schedule for county departments and consideration of the hiring of a "building security officer" for the Civic Center.

Planning matters in the afternoon will include a letter from the Marin Conservation League protesting a "revolving fish eye" in a neon sign at Sabella's restaurant in Alto.

Care Of Wool
CHICAGO (UPI) — The most important factor in controlling wool shrinkage during laundering is to handle and agitate the fabric as little as possible, said Dr. Ruth Galbraith, director of textile research, University of Illinois.

Clifford Stanley Ray, 44, of 608 C Street, San Rafael, was treated for a cut scalp early today at San Rafael General Hospital after allegedly being hit over the head with a beer bottle by Mildred Frances Cagley, 35, of the same address.

She posted $1,500.75 bail today in Marin County Jail to appear Wednesday in municipal court on charges of assault and battery, assault with a weapon, disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

Ray was hit over the head after having a short argument with her at 1:54 a.m. today in the Flat Iron Bar at 724 B Street, San Rafael, according to police.

Lighted Fuses Damage Duplex

Approximately $150 in damage was done yesterday to a duplex under construction at Grant and Railroad Avenues in Novato by two boys with highway fuses, Novato police reported.

The fire call was turned in at 12:53 p.m. when neighbors noticed smoke coming from the front porch. Police reported that two boys were seen leaving the area.

Five holes were burned in the porch, one louvered window broken and a front door burned, according to Charles Prince of 1533 Buchanan Street, who is building the duplex.

Ted's Ice Cream Burgled Of $250

Burglars, who knew where the money was and how to get in, took about $250 early today from Ted's Ice Cream at 42 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Police Sgt. George Alberigi discovered the burglary at 5:30 a.m. when he found the rear door to the ice cream shop pried open.

Alberigi said the inside latch was pried off by chipping away on the outside of the door at the exact location where the latch was located.

The store was locked at 11:30 p.m. last night by two employees, Alberigi said. The money was hidden in two places.

The owner is Ted Giese of 37 Woodside Drive, San Anselmo.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN — available at all drug stores without prescription.

Household Items, Gems Are Stolen

Two burglaries were committed in Sausalito, apparently sometime yesterday, with more than $1,000 reported stolen in jewelry, clothing and household goods.

William Davenport of 503 Main Street reported to police that sometime between 5 and 10 p.m. someone entered his flat through the rear door and stole $1,000 worth of clothing and household goods. Among the items taken was an antique cash register holding $15 in cash.

Also missing, Davenport told police Sgt. David Cooper, was a television set, two suits, a toaster, three brass plates, three men's sweaters, three pair of cufflinks, a tie pin and a food mixer. There was no sign of forced entry, Cooper said.

Jewelry of an unknown value was reported stolen from the home of Ernest Bowman at 32 Sunshine Avenue. Bowman reported at 9:30 p.m. yesterday that someone had entered his home through an unlocked lower bedroom window.

Man Falls From Sausalito Balcony

An Oakland man was hospitalized Saturday night after he was reported to have fallen 20 feet from a Sausalito balcony, then rolled 20 feet into the bottom of a ravine.

Bruce Williams, Sausalito police reported, was visiting at the home of Elizabeth Bromage at 116-A Edwards Avenue at 10 p.m. when he was reported to have fallen from the balcony. Miss Bromage, attempting to aid Williams, also fell but clung to the balcony and was rescued by officer Herbert Smith and reserve officer Don Hirsch.

Williams was examined by his family doctor and taken to a hospital.

Alarming Punishment For Unpopular Prank

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — False fire alarms are an unpopular prank among the younger set these days.

Clausen Asks Immediate Cut In U.S. Income Tax

Donald H. Clausen, campaigning for Congress before his own Republican precinct workers, called Saturday for immediate federal income tax cuts balanced by reductions in government spending.

Clausen spoke to the precinct workers at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo.

"The tax system under which we live is a wide-open invitation for ever-increasing federal spending and for ever-diminishing person and business incentive," he declared.

He said he would support President John F. Kennedy's proposals to Congress "to the extent that they affect the income tax while not increasing the national debt."

At another point, Clausen declared: "Why should the counties send their money to Washington to have the federal government dole it back? We should keep the money here, and let the counties control their own expenditures."

Just Like Home For A.F. Officer

MILTON, Ky. (AP) — Maj. Roger Poland, stationed in England with the U.S. Air Force, became homesick after his first six months.

He remedied the situation by having friends here mail him some Kentucky burley tobacco seeds. Recently, he harvested a rich crop of yellow leaf from his garden.

"It's just like home," Poland wrote. "And there's no acreage quotas to worry about."

Garden Club Film

"Gardens of Alaska," a 16-millimeter sound color film, will be shown Friday at 8 p.m. at a meeting of the Redwood Shade Garden Club at Whitaker Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere, according to president John Titus. There will be refreshments and a plant table.

Governor Should Act To Restore Full Confidence

Today Gov. Edmund G. Brown was sworn in as governor of California for a second full term, only the third man in California history to have won election twice.

There is great honor in such an achievement; there is great responsibility attached thereto. We congratulate the governor and wish him great success in running our state for the next four years.

One way we suggest as helpful in reaching this success would be to have his official family completely free of any hint of misuse of position for personal or financial gain to an individual. In general, the governor's administration has been notably free of such tinges.

However, in the recent statewide elections one campaign developed overtones which we didn't like then, which we have complained of since and which we urge the governor to use the powers of his office to clean up once and for all.

We refer to charges made during that campaign that State Treasurer Bert Betts had used, or allowed his office to be used to set up organizations which could profit from the operations of his office.

These charges, which were extensively documented by unsuccessful candidate John Busterud, maintained that although one of Betts' chief aides had resigned to go full time with the firm he had set up, another still was on Betts' payroll. In addition, charges were made that Betts himself had at least a small interest in at least one company which could benefit from the treasurer's operations.

Of all the state officers we would like to see miles above any suspicion, the treasurer seems to be one of the most important.

We have not been convinced by the routine denials. We think that although the treasurer is himself an elective officer, the governor might look into this situation and either personally, or through some agency, investigate and correct it if need be so that complete confidence could be restored to the financial branch of his official family.

The Grimmiest Month

January is usually considered the grimmest month. The weather is cold and stormy. The Christmas bills play footsie with the Federal Income Tax and Auto License Tax in Marin mailboxes. Flowers are few and far between.

After the big build-up, most of us feel a bit let down after the holidays. The partying and gifting are done. Now we must pay the piper and think ahead.

Bowl Announcer Cleared Throat

EDITOR.

Independent-Journal: I hope you will print this letter, as I am sure every Bay Area resident feels the same as I about the Rose Bowl game announcer. I am sure it wasn't Mel Allen, but someone nearby almost drove me batty constantly clearing his throat. I certainly feel the network should have substituted someone for the poor man. Here's hoping he gets that throat cleared up. It would have been better, had he just given one big noisy throat clearing, rather than the constant one. Maybe they should have called Ben Casey to treat him.

Might also add, I was one of the hundreds who went to Montgomery Ward's in Corte Madera hoping to buy a hair dryer which was to go on sale December 26 according to the ad, but actually went on sale Dec. 24 and sold out. Not fair to the ones who wait until the proper time, is it?

Cardinal Doesn't 'Help Smuggle'

EDITOR.

Independent-Journal: I do not want to appear ungrateful for your generous interview of Dec. 27 and comment upon my Dec. 1 "Editor & Publisher" dispatch from Rome.

However, there was one unfortunate and inaccurate sentence—"Cardinal Agagianian helped to smuggle Brindel into the Armenian choir," which sang the Mass at one of the sessions."

A Cardinal does not "help smuggle" anyone into his Armenian choir or into St. Peter's, especially he who is Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Propaganda of the Faith; until recently Patriarch of Armenia.

Communism Vs. Fascism

EDITOR.

Independent-Journal: I find myself disturbed by President Kennedy's statements in his speech to the refugee Cubans on Dec. 29. He seemed to promise U. S. support to these people in a future attempt to overthrow the present government of Cuba by military force.

It is time that we in the United States realize that, if we are to live at all, it will be in a world which includes Communist nations. This is not to say that we must necessarily agree with Communism in its several interpretations, or desist from fighting for freedom for all people. But freedom essentially must come from within those people of any nation who don't have it.

Sometimes, as with the American Negro, this is a slow and painful process.

The Cuban people, in this process, traded Fascism for Communism. To some in this country, this was a step backward, needful of corrective measures of the most intrusive and punitive sort. I do not agree with this point of view, and at a time when the possibility of thermo-nuclear war renders such action to be insanity of the first order, I protest its consideration by our President.

U.S. Has Had No Choice But To Back U.N. Operations In Africa

WE KNOW FROM experience that in the Congo a settlement, which looks as if it were just around the corner, usually turns out to be a long way off. So it is with the United Nations police action which Tshombe or perhaps his subordinates provoked before the United Nations had completed the military build-up planned for January. Though the immediate result was an easy success in the capital of Katanga at Elisabethville and at the big air base at Kamina, the most modern mining properties at Jadotville and Kolwezi along the rail line to Portuguese Angola are still in the hands of European mercenary troops.

The secession, therefore, is not yet defeated, and if Tshombe enters into new negotiations with the Central Government at Leopoldville, he may still be able to do what he has always done in the past, to evade and procrastinate. For Tshombe's objective is to avoid a settlement in the hope that the United Nations will go bankrupt, abandon the operation and resign itself to the secession of Katanga.

THE MINERAL WEALTH of the province of Katanga is very great. Mr. Colin Legum says that Katanga produces some 8% of the world's copper, 60% of the uranium of the Western World, 73% of the world's cobalt, 80% of its industrial diamonds as well as important quantities of gold, zinc, manganese and many other rare metals. Although Katanga has only 12% of the population of the Congo, it produces 60% of the revenues. The mining wealth of Katanga is controlled in the main by Belgian and British interests, though there are some American shareholders.

The central fact in the problem of the Congo is that, without the revenues from Katanga, the rest of the Congo is doomed to misery and backwardness and to the savagery that they will produce.

The international significance of Katanga can best be appreciated by looking at the map which shows that the richest part of Katanga borders on Northern Rhodesia

If It Isn't Stranded Ship, It's Wild Animal At The Door

Perhaps the niftiest comment made last Thursday when the carrier Core went on the rocks was made by 10-year-old Mike Mandel of Fort Baker. When asked what he thought about it, he replied, "It's pretty neat."

We felt it was pretty neat, too. It was just like a movie set but it was real. There was the fog. There was the big, dark gray ship looming up, its nose about one house from Needle Rock. And there were all the little tugboats, pushing and pulling, and causing the waters to churn all around.

A Harbor Patrol soldier, who said his name could not be used because one can quote officers only, not enlisted men, advised: "They didn't think I could do the job with a small craft, a J-boat, so they evidently issued me an aircraft carrier."

Dozens of soldiers stood on the pier near an empty, haunted looking building. It was pretty serious. Then a black Navy car drew up on the dock, a sailor leaped out and began taking photographs. Next a lieutenant commander got out of the car, scratched his jaw, and said sternly: "It's not the Navy. The ship is run entirely by civilians."

"I have never seen a ship this close to the base before," said Mike, the boy. His buddy, Steve Knowlton, also 10, said gravely, "When I first heard about it, I didn't nearly believe it."

IT'S GOOD to have a visit from the unusual. In Marin if it isn't a carrier on the beach, it's a wild animal knocking at your door.

"The wild animals in Mill Valley are just terrible," an Irish friend of ours related the other night. Our friend, Mrs. Brock Brockway of Throckmorton Avenue, told, for example, how a friend of hers was driving up Miller Avenue one evening when he suddenly found a deer running before his headlights.

"The deer wouldn't get out of the way and wouldn't run any faster," Mrs. Brockway said, "and so the man had to follow the deer for an hour."

Raccoons are another thing, our friend said. The Tim Grul family lives near a tribe of them. At night, for many moons, the raccoons have knocked at the door asking for pieces of bread. The Gruls are not hard-hearted.

One night, when everyone was abed, the raccoons knocked. Gretchen Grul, Tim's wife, said she was out of bread. This was indeed a problem. Finally, Mrs. Brockway said, "Gretchen had to get up and bake the raccoons a batch of biscuits."

IN BELVEDERE there is a seagull that raps on the window of a restaurant when he's hungry.

The Gino Cipollina family in Mill Valley found a baby owl which had fallen from its nest. Perplexed, they asked the museum if it wanted him. No, said the museum people. So the Cipollinas decided to keep him and the museum recommended raw hamburger as food. "Raw hamburger for a tiny baby?" they asked. "Yes," said the museum. Now the owl, Igor, has grown and is kept very well in a bird cage. He has graduated to horse meat.

We live in the middle of a deer trail. Though we like deer we are disturbed when the deer get so hungry they eat the only two plants we grow well—ivy and geraniums. Bob Hughes said he knows a secret way to discourage this. "You simply sprinkle wild mountain lion manure around your garden," he said.

Ho, ho, ho, we told Hughes, knowing the scarcity of mountain lions. But then, three days later, Otto Breuer of Novato looked us straight in the eyes and said he and five other men had just seen a wild mountain lion sleeping in the sun about a mile from Lytton Square. As Mrs. Brockway reminded us, these wild animals are a serious thing.

circumstances, the best hope and the best bet lay in the United Nations.

IT IS TRUE that, in taking this position, we find ourselves somewhat at odds with certain of our European allies. There is total disagreement with General DeGaulle, who has no use for the United Nations and would gladly see it dissolved. There is partial disagreement with Great Britain, more specifically with a wing of the Conservative Party which has great influence in the Macmillan government and is responsive to British financial interests in Katanga and elsewhere in Africa. But we are not at odds with the Belgium of Mr. Spaak; indeed, we are in substantial agreement with it, and we know with what selfless courage Mr. Spaak is acting.

It is painful to differ with allies. But, in my view, there is no tolerable alternative to what Eisenhower and Kennedy have done, which is to support the United Nations. We cannot afford to see the Congo in chaos. We do not want a Communist lodge in the heart of Africa. We do not want to become engaged ourselves with American troops.

No doubt there have been mistakes in the administration of the United Nations operation. But what else could we have done but wish it to succeed?

Udall Brings Seashore Fund, Campaigns For Bill Grader

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall brought money, good news for conservationists, and campaigning on a whirlwind visit to Marin yesterday.

The secretary said the National Parks Service has allocated $175,000 to set up a headquarters for the Point Reyes National Seashore.

He said his department is spending 12 to 15 million dollars to acquire waterfowl refuges in all flyways and feed the birds while they are migrating. And he declared: "No other nation in the world has ever attempted anything similar to our proposed wilderness plan."

This plan calls for setting aside two per cent of the nation's land as a wilderness area, crossed by trails but no roads.

By way of campaigning, Udall called William F. Grader of Fort Bragg, Democratic candidate for Congress, "the right man to pick up the torch" of the late Rep. Clem Miller, for whom Grader was home district secretary.

Grader accompanied Udall throughout a tour that began at San Francisco International Airport and included a press conference at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, a reception in Santa Rosa, a chat with conservationists at the Marin Rod and Gun Club at Point San Quentin, a cocktail party at the home of Roger Kent in Kentfield, and dinner at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Grader sat silent while Udall talked of conservation at the Rod and Gun Club. He and the secretary both spoke at the dinner.

Udall said at his press conference and at the Rod and Gun Club that the Interior Department "is ready to sign purchase contracts with the Point Reyes land owners who are willing to sell," although it has available only $150,000 for land purchase.

The Interior Department, he said, is still awaiting an answer from the Navy on whether it will dispose of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

About 60 conservationists were on hand to listen to the secretary and ask him questions at the Rod and Gun Club.

About 200 Democrats attended the dinner at Dominic's, sponsored by the Grader campaign committee and presided over by Peter Allen Smith, Marin County Democratic Central Committee chairman.

Sitting near Udall and Grader at the head table at Dominic's was Mrs. Katharine Miller, widow of the late congressman who won re-election after his death in an Oct. 7 airplane crash.

Grader blasted his Republican opponent, Donald H. Clausen, for "conducting a secret campaign."

Declared Grader of Clausen: "I can't find him anywhere. In fact I'm almost ready to offer a $100 reward for anyone who can find him."

3 Youths Hurt As Auto Hits Redwood Tree

Three youths were hurt yesterday when one drove a car into a redwood tree on the west slope of Mount Tamalpais.

George J. Miller, 19, of 60 Nevada Street, Sausalito, a laborer for Marin Municipal Water District, was driving east on Panoramic Highway about two miles west of Bootjack Camp at 7 p.m. when his car skidded on a muddy curve and hit the tree.

One passenger, Dennis Babson, 18, of Grass Valley, was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with a back injury and leg bruises. William Fernandez, 19, Hawaii, was treated for chest bruises.

Miller was treated for cuts and bruises of the shoulder, right arm and knee. The California Highway Patrol cited him on a charge of unsafe speed.

Three persons suffered minor injuries in two related but separate rear-end automobile pile-ups during a period of dense San Francisco-bound traffic yesterday afternoon.

The first crash occurred at 5:50 p.m. on the Golden Gate Bridge. Aubrey Meredith McDermott of 130 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, whose south-bound car started a three-car chain collision, was cited by the patrol on a charge of following too closely.

McDermott refused hospitalization for minor bruises, as did Marigene Peri of 970 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, driver of the second car hit. Jack S. Barone of San Francisco, whose car was in the middle, wasn't hurt.

This accident halted traffic northward on the bridge and at 6:05 p.m. a car driven by Kay Louise Hendrix of San Francisco struck the rear of one driven by Angelo A. Lippi, also of San Francisco, near the north end of the crossing. Miss Hendrix was reported hurt but was not hospitalized.

Riding a motorcycle he had acquired only a week before,

Charles R. Williams, 20, a Navy sailor from the carrier Hancock at Alameda Naval Air Station, was thrown off as he rounded a turn on Butterfield Road just north of Legend Road in Sleepy Hollow at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

He told the California Highway Patrol his cycle drifted on the road shoulder, then skidded on gravel. Marin General Hospital treated cuts on his left knee and left elbow.

A passenger, Alexandria Kahn, 68, in a car driven by Barbara Kahn, 17, of 58 Via Barranca, San Rafael, suffered minor bruises and whiplash in an accident on Tiburon Boulevard Saturday afternoon, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The Kahn car was stopped for a left hand turn when it was hit in the rear by one driven by Richard Sidney Clark, 26, of 578 Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley, the CHP reported. Clark was cited for speeding. Mrs. Kahn went to her own doctor for treatment.

Lion Defense Chews Up Steelers

MIAMI (AP)—"We thought we had the best defense in the league," puffed Joe Schmidt as he left the scene of yesterday's violence after the Detroit Lions beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-10 in the National Football League's Playoff Bowl.

"This ought to prove it," the tough linebacker concluded.

Detroit's defense was fearful, indeed. The Lions blitzed the Steeler quarterback, Ed Brown, holding him to five completions in 12 passes, and hit so fiercely that three Steelers left the field in need of medical attention.

Fullback John Henry Johnson was placed under observation for a probable concussion; Willie Daniel's jaw was broken, and Dan James chipped an ankle bone.

The Steelers, fighting to offset the embarrassment of a 45-7 drubbing by the Lions in the regular season, also were mean enough on defense to control Detroit's running game.

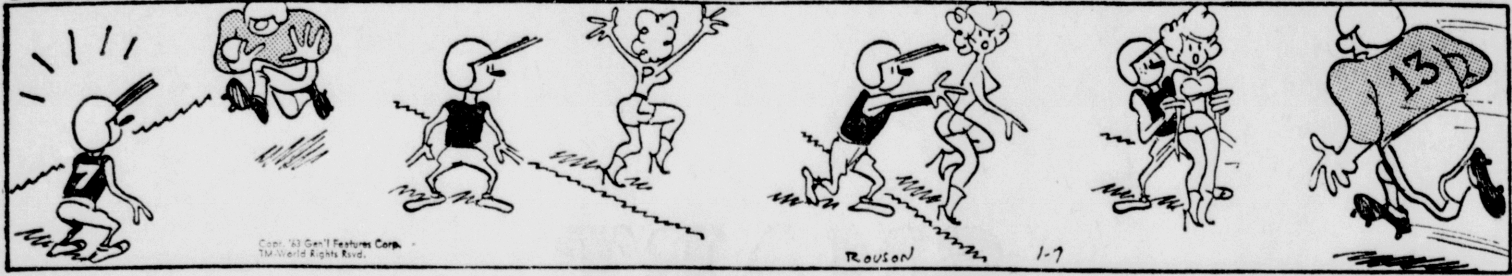

But Milt Plum, voted the game's most valuable player, went to the air with great success, breaking three records in the playoff series when he threw 29 passes and completed 16 for 274 yards. One pass went 20 yards to Ken Webb for a touchdown.

Webb scored another from the two after Plum had set it up with a 74-yard pass play to Dan Lewis to the Steeler five, and Wayne Walker booted a 27-yard field goal.

The Lions were surprised, pleasantly, when the Steeler coach, Buddy Parker, held the veteran quarterback, Bobby Layne, out of combat until only seven minutes, 46 seconds remained.

"I thought at least Layne would start the second half," said George Wilson, Detroit line coach. "But I'm just as happy he didn't."

TAM BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

Gridders Turned Cagers

(Fourth in a series on Marin Athletic League basketball prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

When the Tamalpais Indians open the Marin Athletic League cage campaign it will be a case of the athletes shedding their football uniforms in place of basketball clothes.

Four of the starting five boys for the Indians played varsity football last year and of that group two were named on both the coaches' and the Independent-Journal all-league teams. Seven of the entire 13-man team played varsity football for the runner-up Indians.

It may have been an all football cast in the starting lineup for Tam if it weren't for a key injury to one of Tam's big men.

Bill Gillingham, a starting guard on last year's Tam cage team and outstanding quarterback for the gridders, suffered a torn cartilage and will be out of action for the entire basketball season. He was the top shooter, by percentage, on the Indian team last year.

The starting forwards for Tam this year will be Jim Durbin, 6-2 senior, and Ellis Williams, a 5-11 junior. Starting at the guard spots will be Warren Domino, 5-11 senior, and Art Ford, 6-0 senior. Art Foster, a big 6-2 senior, will be the starting center for Tam.

Svare Named Head Coach For Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Into the graveyard of professional football coaches steps broad-shouldered, bull-necked Harland Svare, new boss of the Los Angeles Rams.

Svare, at 32 the youngest coach in the National Football League, was appointed Saturday to pilot a club that has defied experts who figured it had nowhere to go but up. The Rams have gone down, down, down since 1959.

A star linebacker for the Rams and later the New York Giants, Svare is the seventh Ram coach since 1947. His predecessors: Bob Snyder, Clark Shaughnessy, Joe Stydahara, Hampton Pool, Sid Gilman and Bob Waterfield.

Waterfield, the great Ram quarterback of the 1940s and early 1950s, resigned before the 1962 season was over. Svare, who had signed on as defensive coach before the season started, was named interim coach and piloted the luckless Rams for the last six games. They finished with a 1-12-1 record but their last game of the season, a 20-17 loss to Green Bay, the league champion, was considered a superb effort by the Rams' head office.

Svare signed a one-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Stanford Tests Surprising Cal

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just what does the University of California basketball team think it's doing in the Big Six Conference race?

The Stanford Indians intend to find out when they whoop into the Bear's Berkeley lair tomorrow night for a contest between the major teams with the best records on the Pacific Coast.

In a Los Angeles Sports Arena double header tonight, Loyola of Los Angeles and Pepperdine, the two Southern California squads in the West Coast Athletic Conference, change partners and hope their toes don't get stepped on by Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco.

Surprising California, a doormat of the Big Six last season, handled Southern California twice in Berkeley over the weekend, 72-65 Friday and 78-69 Saturday to improve its seasonal mark to 10-2. Stanford was idle which didn't alter its 8-2 record.

In the other Big Six openers, ninth-ranked UCLA lost its point and national standing in Seattle by getting upset twice by Washington, 62-61 Friday and 67-63 Saturday.

Washington State, the other Big Six school, lost to independent Oregon State, 74-47 Friday and 61-50 Saturday, both in Corvallis, Ore.

BRONCOS WIN

Santa Clara edged past Pepperdine, 75-74, in overtime Saturday night spoiling the league debut of the WCAC defending champion. San Francisco completed the sad evening in the Los Angeles Sports Arena for Southern California fans by mauling Loyola, 69-49. Opponents are switched for tonight.

San Jose State, upset winner of the WCAC Christmas tournament in San Francisco, continued its surprising way with a 42-41 overtime victory over the University of the Pacific Saturday in Stockton.

With San Jose behind, 41-40, in the overtime, the Spartans fed Eddie Sims for one last shot. Pacific's John Scheel fouled Sims so severely, the San Jose star could not take it to the free throw line. St. Mary's was chosen by coach Stu Inman for the honor and sank both charities for victory in the league opener.

St. Mary's tests the Spartans Friday. Tomorrow night, St. Mary's, idle over the weekend, meets Pacific in the Oakland Auditorium.

more delicate finesse of basketball.

The Indians should not be lacking experience as Domino, Foster, Durbin and Williams are all back from last year's cage team.

"Never count us out. We have good workers. Come league time these kids will be a determined bunch," Chavez said. He said the Indians will be doing a lot of shooting this year and relying on their rebounding skills.

Domino has been carrying the burden of the Tam scoring this season on the practice game slate. Said Chavez: "Domino is by far one of the outstanding athletes in northern California." He is currently the top scorer, the top defensive player, and is second in rebounding to Foster, Chavez declared.

Seeing a lot of action will be four key reserves, forwards Bill Nelson (6-1, senior), Steve Novacek (6-1, senior and Chris Schuepbach (6-1, junior); Cedric Collett (5-11, junior).

OTHER PLAYERS

Other members of the Tam cage team are centers Tami Bell (6-1, junior) and Mark De Smet (6-4, junior), and guards Alan Polanshek (5-10, junior) and Robin Prosch (5-11, junior).

Chavez feels this season will be a "very, very close" race. He picks San Rafael and Marin Catholic as the top teams and adds, "Redwood and Drake can't be counted out."

And neither can Tam, Chavez repeated.

Warriors In Slump, Face Celtics Next

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors hobble home for a Tuesday night game at the Cow Palace after losing two of three weekend road contests.

Of all teams to await them, it's the Boston Celtics, defending champions of the National Basketball Assn. And healthy for the first time in a week will be Bob Cousy, the Boston backcourt star.

Cousy's absence told this weekend when the Celtics dropped two to the home-standing Los Angeles Lakers, 106-104 Saturday, and 125-123 Friday night.

The Warriors were smacked down by St. Louis yesterday, 114-103. On Saturday, the Warriors defeated the Chicago Zephyrs, 127-126. San Francisco lost, 130-129, to Cincinnati Friday.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 41 points against St. Louis, but didn't receive enough field goal assistance from teammates. The Warriors challenged briefly in the first period, but fell behind after that and were completely swamped in the third quarter when the Hawks hit 17 of 26 field goal attempts.

The Celtics have yet to lose in four games against the Warriors. On Jan. 2, before 12,067 Cow Palace spectators, Boston won 135-120 in overtime. The attraction of Bill Russell vs. Chamberlain is expected to draw another large crowd tomorrow.

Grider Shofner Weds Daughter Of Ex-Boss

NCAA In Bitter Opening

Combined AP and UPI

LOS ANGELES—The 57th annual National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) convention opened officially today in a milieu of bickering, optimism, bitterness and congeniality—exactly like some of its sanctioned athletic contests.

Delegates that included many of the nation's collegiate coaches and athletic directors were faced with problems ranging from one end of the spectrum to the other.

High on the list of topics was the suddenly renewed feud between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the NCAA-sponsored U.S. Track and Field Federation.

UNLIMITED SUBS

And, of course, the football rules committee was ready to take its annual stand on free and unlimited substitution—a stand which in the past few years has been a negative one.

The federal government has been sounding out the powerful NCAA on the chances of progress in settlement or mediation of the raging dispute over the administration of track and field in the United States.

EXCHANGE OF CALLS

The Associated Press learned there has been exchange of telegrams between the White House and the NCAA in the last two days. The NCAA is waiting only for release of the reply in Washington to state its position.

Nick Rodis, the State Department official who sat in with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on the formulation of the abortive coalition plan for track and field in the New York "truce meeting" two months ago, has been here for two days talking to collegiate leaders and coaches about arranging several baseball tours in Latin America.

He also was handed the NCAA reply to a White House wire requesting the colleges' position on President Kennedy's suggestion that the sports dispute be submitted to binding arbitration under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"PUPPET GROUP"

The AAU has agreed to mediate the dispute with the NCAA. The NCAA-supported U.S. Track and Field Federation has agreed to arbitrate with the AAU. The AAU says it will not enter into negotiations with the federation, which it considers a puppet organization of the NCAA. The NCAA has said it will not enter into arbitration individually, since it is only one of several charter members of the federation.

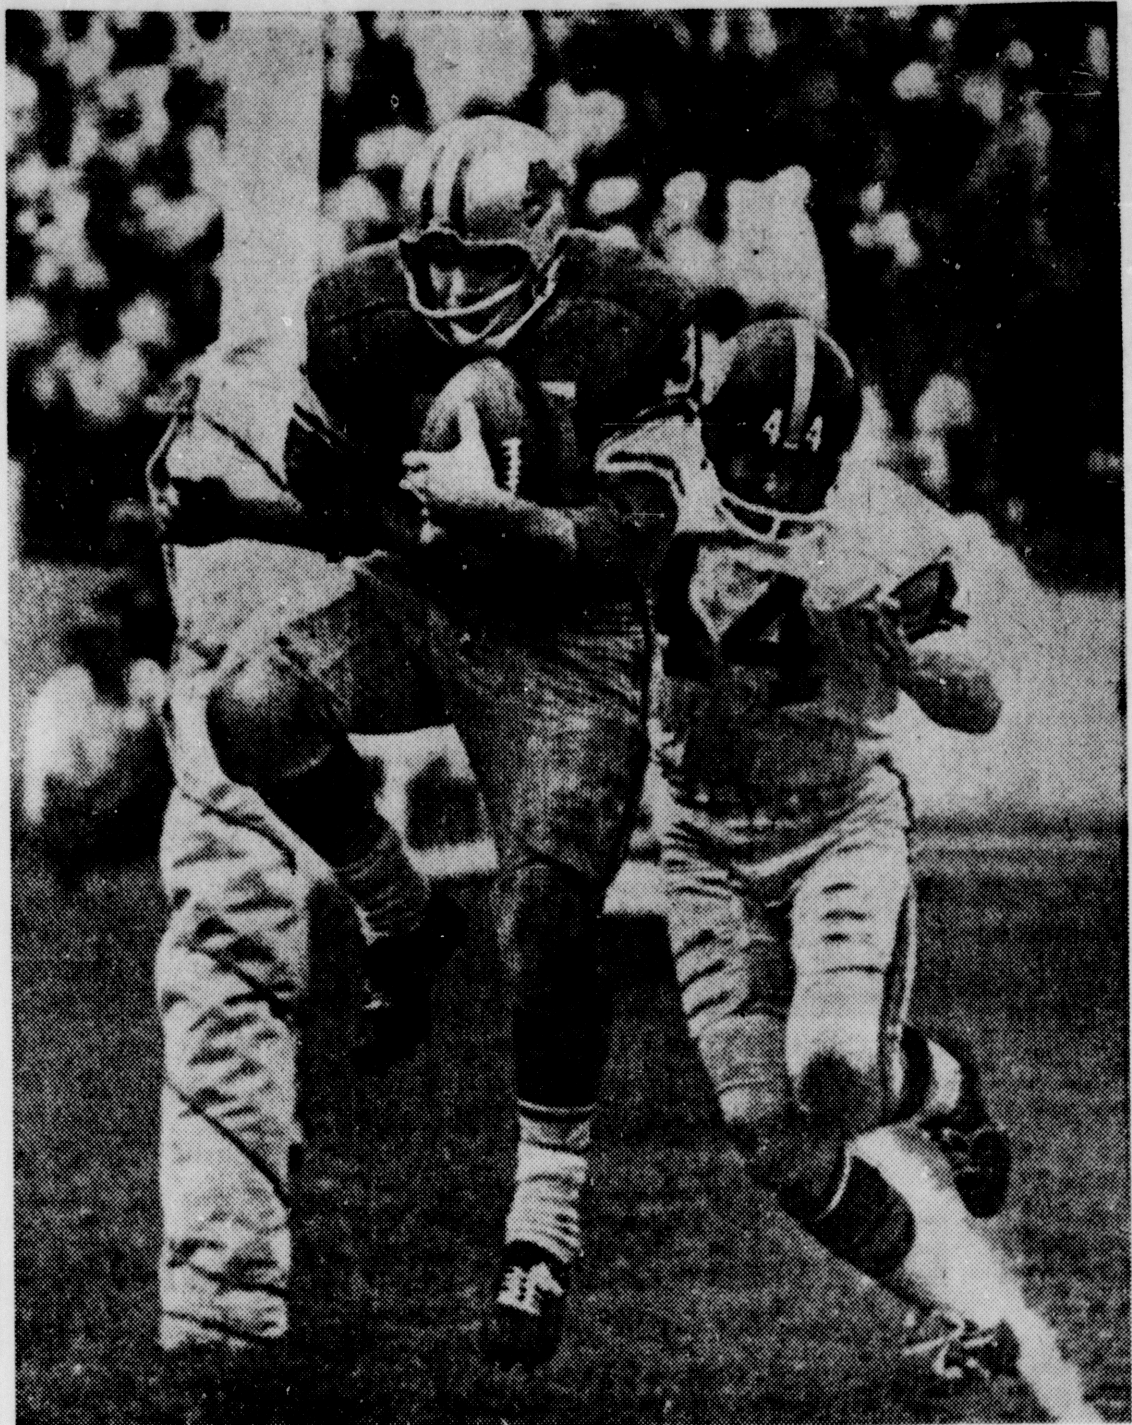

The battle of the alphabet has become so involved that the AAU has been suspending athletes who compete in federation-sanctioned meets and the NCAA has recommended that its member schools limit their competition and facilities to federation-approved events. The NCAA has drafted legislation that would penalize a collegian a year's eligibility in the NCAA track and field championships if he competes in an AAU meet that isn't sanctioned by the federation.

Hornsby Left Achievement Mark That's Hard To Equal

By JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Rogers Hornsby, hall of famer and one of baseball's immortals, left an indelible diamond achievement record that will never be completely erased. Nert to Ty Cobb, he was ranked tops among the righthanded batters.

But in spite of all his glorious performances and enviable records, he was, in my opinion, a victim of baseball jealousy. His blunt opinions, his fast and sometimes biting tongue lashed out fearlessly. He would condemn with the same fierceness as he often praised. Never one to sidestep a controversy, it led him into many scuffles, some of which he won hands down and some of which he lost prestige. One of his losing scraps was to the late Judge Landis, high commissioner, who chided him because of his horse race connections and book-making friends.

Hornsby never denied betting on horses. He defended his right to wager as he saw fit. For a time he was regarded as welching on bets. The charge was never proved but it did something to Hornsby's prestige that never quite matched his unblemished baseball career.

PERFECTIONIST

Owners who hired him, fired him with reckless abandon. He was, in many respects, a perfectionist like Ty Cobb. But neither Hornsby nor Cobb ever "made it" in the managerial ranks.

Players whose feats on the diamond were exaggerated were forced to shutter at the comparative records of Hornsby. It made some of them angry. Among those was Roger Maris who is said to have refused to pose with Hornsby bringing forth the remark "Maris couldn't pack my bat as a hitter."

It is almost 42 years since I first ran into Hornsby. He was with St. Louis when the club trained at Stockton, Calif. Later he came back to spend a winter league season along with Ty Cobb, Harry Heilmann and George Sisler, a winter league that proved a huge success and a treat for minor league fans.

Archer Wins Video Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Middleweight contender Joey Archer of New York, an impressive victor in Saturday's television fight, may be matched today with Blair Richardson, champion of Canada, for Madison Square Garden, Feb. 16.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said: "Archer proved himself perhaps the smartest boxer in the middleweight division by outpointing Denny Moyer Saturday night. Now, how will he stack up against Richardson, a knockout specialist?"

Richardson scored 34 kayoes while winning 38 of his 40 professional fights.

Archer achieved his 33rd victory in 34 fights on an 8-2, 8-2, 6-3-1 decision. It was Moyer's ninth defeat in 43 bouts.

ness and a treat for minor league fans.

Down through the years as player, manager and coach, we've carried on that friendship.

Among the greatest attributes one can pay Hornsby is that he was the leading conversationalist in the game. He would rather sit around a hotel lobby and fan with writers than anything else. And his opinions and his observations were always "news."

Seldom, if ever, would Hornsby "rap" the oldtimers. He adored Babe Ruth as a hitter and as a man. He spoke in glowing terms of Ty Cobb, particularly in later years. The "Georgia Peach" likewise credited the "Rajah" with being baseball's greatest hitter. Only one big timer manager, the late John J. McGraw, paid tribute to Hornsby as a second baseman.

ALL TIME FINEST

McGraw insisted that Hornsby ranked with the finest second sackers of all time. And McGraw had a few good ones in his years as manager.

Baseball can ill afford to lose a symbol like Hornsby. Now that the game is sailing high wide and handsome, the memory of Hornsby and Cobb out to be perpetuated, if only to give awards to present day players in their names. Wouldn't you like to receive the Hornsby Award for being the best righthanded hitter for the 1963 season or the Ty Cobb Award for being the best left-handed hitter? I'm sure you would.

Senate Investigators May Quiz Halas And Casares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago Bears fullback Rick Casares and owner-coach George Halas face questioning by Senate investigators in connection with a subcommittee study of gambling in professional and amateur sports.

That disclosure is the latest development in a long weekend for the National Football League, rocked by rumors of a scandal and the furor created by Casares' revelation that he had taken two lie detector tests.

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, declined to give details but other sources said last night that subcommittee agents will interview Casares, Halas and others in Chicago.

In Chicago, the Sun-Times said that McClellan denied that the investigators will question Casares or Halas. He added that the preliminary investigation now under way has not revealed sufficient information to warrant a public hearing.

"There may be such evidence tomorrow, but I don't know," the Sun-Times quoted McClellan as saying. "You can't tell what might develop in the morning or next week, or even next month."

"I can tell you that we are not sending any special Senate investigators to Chicago regarding the current rumors of a football scandal there."

Amid the smoldering rumors Casares' admission that he had taken the tests on Oct. 17, 1961 and again late last month, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle threw another pail of water on what amounts to an active volcano.

Rozelle said in Miami, "There is no evidence of wrong doing by any individual right up to this minute. The investigations are continuing and will continue as long as the rumors continue, and the rumors will probably continue as long as the sport remains popular."

That, said Rozelle, is the only word the NFL can issue on the storm that hit last Friday and raged again Saturday when Casares said he had submitted to the tests and answered "no" to these questions:

Did you ever attempt to shave points during a game?

Did you ever intentionally fumble the ball during a game?

Have you ever been approached or propositioned to throw a game?

Did you ever intentionally cause a penalty?

"I passed them all," said Casares.

"I took the tests voluntarily and in complete confidence in order to help the league," said Casares. "But now I'm upset. I've done nothing wrong but take a couple of tests and all of a sudden my name is in the middle of everything."

"I've heard of heavy betting by gamblers and other men," said Casares. "But I can't believe any player has shaved points as they say or worked with any gamblers."

"I defy anyone to come up with anything about me."

Halas said he had asked Rozelle to conduct an investigation to bring the rumors into the open. He refused to comment on Casares' statements, except to say that the former Florida star, an eight-year NFL veteran, will be offered a contract for 1963 and the Bears "are counting on him."

Pros, Collegiates Share Spotlight In Bay Area Basketball Tomorrow

Unless you happen to be twins, it's going to be tough to be in two places at once tomorrow night. The Cow Palace features the return of the San Francisco Warriors against the champion Boston Celtics in the play-for-pay bracket. And over at Berkeley the simon pure Stanford and Californians meet in their first "big game" of the new year.

Although pro basketball has not yet captured the burning enthusiasm that follows every move of the Giants and the 49ers, all the elements are there. When Bay Area sports fans rediscover basketball, things should really start humming.

"REDISCOVER" is the word. In the past couple of decades there have been some great college basketball teams in these parts, but John Q. Public has been shut out, with the exception of radio and TV coverage. It is next to impossible to get tickets at Berkeley, and the parking situation is deplorable. Stanford offers plenty of parking and a cracker-box gymnasium.

USF, St. Mary's and Santa Clara have come up with good teams but have been orphans as far as home courts go. It took national championship teams featuring Bill Russell, K. C. Jones & Company to get a new gym for USF, and by then the tide had gone out.

NOW, FOR the first time, San Francisco has a major league basketball and the spacious Cow Palace as an arena. But the Warriors have been slow catching on because basketball has become the forgotten sport because of the aforementioned conditions.

Last Wednesday more than 12,000 fans turned out to see the Celtics beat the Warriors in overtime. They came to see the almost legendary Bob Cousy, Russell, Jones, Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, and

RANDOL

Tom Meschery, ex-Gael star. Cousy was suited up but did not play because of a pulled muscle.

The crowd reaction was interesting. Both teams had supporters, but mostly it was like watching an exhibition. It will take a league leading team or a great local star to develop the vociferous partisanship needed for a roaring success.

THE PICTURE in college basketball is looking up on the West Coast. There are some real powers emerging this year with UCLA, Cal, Stanford, USC and Oregon State all bearing national rankings. The Big Six Conference battle will be dog eat dog, all the way.

Surprising California got off to a great start with a double win over USC last weekend, but the Bears will have their hands full with Coach Howie Dallmar's Indians. The Stanford started like world beaters but lost their sharpness during examination week. They have the horses and will be heard from.

Speaking of Stanford, the successor to Cactus Jack Cur-tice may be named before the day is over, but Dame Rumor gives John Ralston of Utah State the inside track. Should he get the job, there will be some large tears shed on Coach Marv Levy's new two-year contract over at Cal. Some old Blues wanted him badly.

Sports World Mourns Passing Of Hornsby

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball will mourn the passing of Rogers Hornsby this week.

Hornsby, whose name often was spoken in the same breath as that of Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb, died Saturday at the age of 66 from a heart condition.

Funeral services for the Hall of Fame star who was known as the game's greatest right-handed hitter, will be held in Chicago tomorrow afternoon.

The Rajah died Saturday morning in Wesley Memorial Hospital.

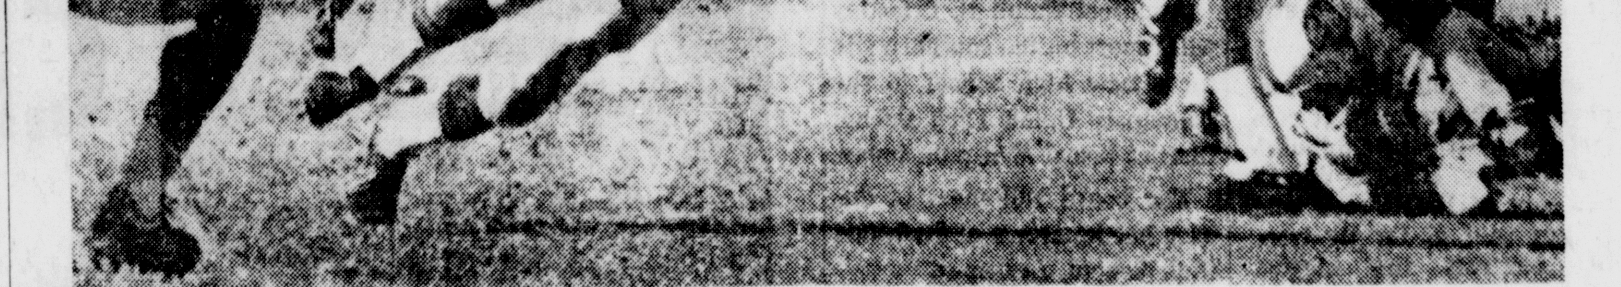

Hornsby entered the hospital Dec. 10 for a cataract operation. He suffered a stroke four days later. His condition was reported improving until Friday night when he developed a high temperature and lung congestion.

Hornsby was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1942. He managed five major league clubs during and after his tremendous playing career.

He led the National League in batting seven times and his .424 average in 1924 with St. Louis is the highest in modern baseball history. He led the league in batting six successive seasons and finished with a lifetime average of .359.

That Man VanderKelen Sets More Records In Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (UPI) — An improvised pass play, a fumble recovery and a stalwart defense were the ingredients the North All-Stars combined in their 20-13 victory over the South 11 in the 17th annual Hula Bowl football classic at Honolulu Stadium yesterday.

More than 22,000 fans sat in sunny 80-degree weather to watch the North team, coached by Rip Engle of Penn State, bounce back from a 13-7 half-time deficit with two touchdowns—both engineered by Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen—in the late stages of the fourth quarter to down the fired-up South coached by UCLA's Billy Barnes.

VanderKelen, harassed all afternoon by the hard-charging South linemen and line-backers, wriggled free time and again to hit his receivers in the bruising contest.

NEW RECORD

All told, VanderKelen, who passed for 401 yards in the Rose Bowl game Tuesday, connected on 20 of 34 attempts for a total of 244 yards, a new Hula Bowl record.

On the receiving end were big Dave Robinson of Penn State, who hauled in four passes for 67 yards and Washington State's Hugh Campbell, who had four receptions for 48 yards and one touchdown.

It was VanderKelen to Campbell tandem that had the fans talking after the game.

Three Cage Stars Indicted For Alleged Bribery

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Bills of indictment charging three former North Carolina State college basketball players with accepting bribes to influence the outcome of two games against Duke University were presented to the Durham County Grand Jury today.

The indictments prepared by Solicitor Prosecutor Dan Edwards named Donald M. Gallagher, 26, of Binghamton, N.Y., now an army officer; Stanley Niewierowski, 24, and Anton P. Muehlbauer, 23, both of Brooklyn, N.Y.

The indictments charged the players with accepting bribes to shave points in games North Carolina State lost to Duke at Durham in 1960 and 1961. Duke won 47-34 on Jan. 9, 1960, and 81-67 on Jan. 7, 1961.

Trojans Win Rice Award

NEW YORK (AP)—University of Southern California's No. 1 ranked football team is winner of this year's Grantland Rice Award.

The five members of the Football Writers of America selection committee picked the Trojans unanimously. Southern California defeated Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl and was undefeated and untied in 10 season games.

Alabama was second, Mississippi third and Wisconsin fourth in the selections announced Friday.

ALEXANDER IS TOP BACK IN HULA BOWL

HONOLULU (UPI) — Kermit Alexander, the San Francisco 49ers' top draft choice already under contract, won the outstanding back award of the Hula Bowl.

Alexander, UCLA back, was presented the Governor's Trophy. Sturdy Dave Watson, Georgia Tech guard, was selected the top lineman and was awarded the Mayor's Trophy. Both athletes were on the North team which won 20-13.

Last year, Lance Alworth, then of Arkansas and now with the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League, and Merlin Olson, of Utah and now the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL, were voted the top back and lineman respectively.

Builders Win Again—No. 10

The Billings-Hutchinson Builders chalked up their 10th straight victory yesterday over the Yankee Rookies 4-2 in a practice semi-pro baseball game.

Jerry Walters, ace right hander, scattered four hits and struck out nine while allowing two unearned runs, the first tallies scored against the Builders in 30 innings of play.

Trailing 1-0 in the fourth inning, the Builders tied the score on a walk to Ron Blum, a stolen base and a missed pick-off attempt which allowed Blum to score from second.

The Builders scored in the next inning on hits by Larry Smoot, Bob Joyce and Dick Spackman. Next Sunday the Builders will resume play in the Alameda Winter League with a ballgame on San Anselmo's Memorial Field.

L. A. Open Is Close Battle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Veteran Art Wall, without a tournament win in nearly three years, sought to remedy the situation going into the final round of the $50,000 Los Angeles Open today with a two-stroke lead with a 54-hole score of 205.

Offer in contention here but never a victor, he held the slim margin over the quartet of Johnny Pott; Paul Bondeson, a long-hitting youngster; Bud Holscher, a hometown choice; and sentimental favorite, Ed Furgol.

And only another stroke back at 208—in excellent challenging position—were 11 others. Heading this group were Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, and Billy Casper.

Wall, 39-year-old Pocono Manor, Pa., pro who last won a tourney in 1960 when he took the Canadian Open, shot into the undisputed lead at the end of 54 holes with a four-under-par 67.

His near perfect round was witnessed by a large portion of an almost record 21,500 golfing enthusiasts who turned out at the Rancho Park course in 89-degree weather.

Jack Nicklaus, the 1962 rookie who began his pro career here last year winning only $33.33, was not faring much better this year. He had his best round yet at Los Angeles yesterday—a 62—but it left him with a 213 total.

"Pretty good for a guy who was shoveling snow in Pennsylvania," Wall said in assessing his round, wiping perspiration from his brow.

FIELD CUT

The field was cut to the 81 low pros, plus one amateur, at the end of Saturday's round. It took a score of 45 to qualify for the final 36 holes. Several name players including Doug Sanders, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Bobby Nichols, Bo Wininger, Doug Ford and Ralph Guldahl failed to make the cut.

However, the majority of the stars still were around for the final two sessions and so closely bunched that a tie could result by the end of today's regulation play. If it does occur, it will be decided by a sudden death playoff.

HUGE CROWD

His near perfect round was witnessed by a large portion of an almost record 21,500 golfing enthusiasts who turned out at the Rancho Park course in 89-degree weather.

Jack Nicklaus, the 1962 rookie who began his pro career here last year winning only $33.33, was not faring much better this year. He had his best round yet at Los Angeles yesterday—a 62—but it left him with a 213 total.

Marin Cage Loop Opens This Week

This marks the last week of the practice schedule for cage teams in the Marin Athletic League as league play will fire off this Friday with three tilts.

San Rafael will battle Drake on the Bulldog court, Novato hosts Terra Linda, and Tam plays Redwood, at Redwood in opening MCAL action. Marin Catholic draws a bye and will take on Petaluma High School in a practice game on the Wildcat floor, also on Friday.

In final practice games this week, San Rafael travels to Vallejo tomorrow for a game against Vallejo High at 4 p.m.; Drake hosts Skyline tomorrow at 6 p.m.; Terra Linda takes on Sonoma High, there, tomorrow at 4 p.m.; Redwood High hosts Montgomery Wednesday at 4 p.m., and Novato travels to Petaluma to battle St. Vincent Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Richter's Punting Wows Hawaiian Fans

HONOLULU (UPI)—Wisconsin's Pat Richter had the fans at yesterday's Hula Bowl game buzzing about his punting ability.

Richter punted three times for 35, 60 and 50 yards, for an average of 48.3 yards per punt. He also had one booming 67 yarder called back on a penalty.

PRIVATE CITIZEN CAN'T DO ANYTHING ABOUT COMMUNISM

Of course you can! Thousands of American citizens already have. Where? Communism's weakest spot—Eastern Europe. Here 80,000,000 people still resist Red domination. Here many Russian divisions are tied down.

You can get into the fight, by backing up one of our major weapons in the cold war—Radio Free Europe.

In daily broadcasts, Radio Free Europe's 28 powerful transmitters send messages of truth and hope to captive people... messages that expose Red lies.

Radio Free Europe is supported by private donations. It needs your help to keep the Communists off balance.

So stand up and be counted. Give now—whatever you can.

Italy's Economy Is Mixture Where State Controls Much

ROME (AP) — The citizen's breakfast included fruit marketed by the state. As he ate, he glanced through his morning newspaper, owned by a state firm.

He dressed in a suit made of cloth from a state-owned mill.

The car he drove to work was constructed in a state plant.

At the office, he used a telephone provided by a state company. He lit a state cigarette with a state match.

On his way home, he purchased gasoline at a state-owned filling station, had a drink at a state bar and dined in a state restaurant.

At home, he switched on lights using state power. He took ice from a refrigerator built by a state company. Then he settled down to watch television—with only two state-operated channels to choose from.

Next day he left on a business trip, planned by a state-controlled tourist agency. He traveled on state-owned trains, planes and ships, and stayed at a state hotel.

He was an Italian, living in "capitalist" Italy today.

He was not confined to using only state products. In some cases he could have turned to services and goods provided by private firms. But his choice demonstrated that Italy—more than any other Western country—has a mixed economy in which the state is actively participating in almost every phase of industrial and business activity.

Now the state is taking over another field — electric power. A bill nationalizing power is in the last stages of parliamentary consideration.

About 25 per cent of Italy's electrical output already is produced by state-controlled companies. Nationalization consolidates these companies and private industries under a single state agency.

The power nationalization represents another step forward in state industry started by Benito Mussolini.

In 1933 he set up the Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale (Institute for Industrial Reconstruction) as a depression emergency measure. It took over industrial stockholdings from banks, enabling the banks to shed shares that were rapidly losing value.

In the postwar struggle for recovery, the Institute became a way of Italian economic life, a super holding company with a book value of 2.25 billion dollars.

Its industries are worth much more than this.

The Institute controls other holding companies. These in turn control other firms. Sometimes the Institute has 100 per cent ownership, as it does in the big Alfa Romeo automobile plant. Sometimes it doesn't.

For example, the Institute holds 50.6 per cent of the stock in the Finsider holding company. Finsider in turn holds 51.2 per cent of the stock in the Dalmine metal firms. It is hard to figure the government interest in companies down the line, but government control extends over a wider area than the actual value of state shareholdings indicate.

Private equity in Institute firms has been estimated at 40 per cent.

Institute companies employ 271,000 persons. It controls four-fifths of shipbuilding capacity. It turns out 55 per cent of Italy's steel and 85 per cent of its pig iron. IRI controls the biggest banks.

Institute firms make parts for missiles, household appliances, heavy machinery, optical goods, textiles, trucks, radar machine tools, and dozens of other products. IRI also controls the state radio-television network, Italy's biggest shipping companies and the Alitalia Airline.

The Institute is not the only big state holding company. In recent years it has been overshadowed in growth by the Ente Nazionale Idrocarburi, built by the dynamic Enrico Mattei, who died in a plane crash in October. This National Hydrocarbon Authority started as an oil monopoly. Now it controls synthetic rubber plants, a newspaper, motels, restaurants, bars and tanker fleets.

Report Due On Site For High School

Architect Ralph B. Priestley will report on the southern site for a new high school to the Tamalpais Union High School District board at 8 p.m. today.

The board will meet in district headquarters at Redwood High School, Larkspur.

Priestley will report on suggested boundaries and access roads for a site on about 32 hilly acres of Belveron Gardens on the Tiburon Peninsula.

The board is expected to ask the county schools superintendent to consolidate the district's tax election with the countywide election of school district trustees April 16, said Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Trustees seek to renew the district's present operating tax rate limit of $1.90 per $100 of assessed evaluation. The present authorization expires at the end of the 1964 fiscal year, when the operating tax would revert to $1.25.

The positions of two trustees will be up for election April 16: John C. Siemens and James M. Stubblebine.

Giant Aswan Dam Close To Reality

By GEORGE McARTHUR

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — The morning alarm clock in Aswan is the roar of 5,000 pounds of dynamite.

At 6 a.m. each day some 16-000 tons of granite erupts, moving that much closer to reality the giant Aswan Dam—Egypt's dream and the Soviet Union's largest foreign aid venture.

"We are right on schedule," says Osman Ahmed Osman, contractor who is a key man in the project which may largely decide Egypt's place in the 20th century and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's role in history.

Nasser sees the dam as the crowning symbol of his socialist revolution.

To back Nasser the Russians have lent 200 million dollars and pledged as much again. This followed U.S. refusal to finance the dam.

The well-being of Egypt's impoverished millions could well depend on the outcome. The dam is Egypt's chance to ease the relentless pressure of an exploding population — 27 million people, a total which will be doubled in 25 years.

The dam will give Egypt vast electric power plus almost a million acres of new farmland. Much of this can be plowed back into the economy without being offset by hungry new people. Egypt hopes the effect will snowball, making her the first industrial power in the Arab world.

The senior engineer, Ibrahim Zaki Kennawi, sees a dam by-product in 600 top-drawer engineers and 10,000 skilled construction workers.

Aswan is attracting Egypt's best. Pay and allowances triple what a man might make in Cairo. Ambitious young engineers and government bureaucrats realize the word Aswan in their records will aid advancement. Visitors note a quickened pace even among ordinary laborers. The site itself is impressive. The timeless Nile has carved a gently curving channel through desert sands and stone cliffs, widening to embrace eroded islands reminiscent of Japanese rock gardens. Blistering in midsummer, it is balmy in the winter.

A new city is rising with thousands of boxlike air-conditioned apartments. Officials speak ambitiously of a new industrial complex—textiles, fertilizer, aluminum and even steel. For the present the dam absorbs almost all effort. There are 16,000 men working there—soon to be 25,000.

In the excavation sites and on the cliffsides 50 men have been killed — about two a month. It is an uphill battle to impress often illiterate laborers of the hazards inherent in such a massive project. Danger abounds—unmarked holes, loose rocks, miles of uninsulated wiring and hundreds of screaming machines.

Work is now concentrated on a mile-long diversion channel—two-thirds completed—through which the river will flow while the actual dam is constructed. This 300-foot-deep canyon will also house the power station perched over six awesome tunnels, each big enough to gulp down a three-story house.

Work will start soon on the massive rock-filled structure that will eventually span the Nile. When completed it will be 436 feet high, 2.6 miles long.

Contractor Osman's schedule calls for completion of the diversion canal in 1963, beginning of cofferdams early in 1963, a start on the power station in 1965, to have the first one-third of the electric power available by 1967 and completion of the whole project by 1970.

Planners To Meet On $6-Million Apartment

San Rafael Planning Commissioners will hold the first public hearing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow on a proposed change of zone that would permit a six-million-dollar multi-story apartment development on 10.8 acres in east San Rafael.

The Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. of San Rafael proposes six apartment buildings nine stories high on the land bounded by Bellam Boulevard, Larkspur, Novato and Canal streets.

The firm had originally asked for a new zoning law to permit the tall building development. Present apartment zoning restricts height of buildings to a 30-foot minimum. But the company withdrew its request for a new zoning law and asked instead that the zoning on the property, be changed from multiple residential to planned community.

In the latter zone, the commission could approve buildings at whatever height it found acceptable.

The commission will hold a second hearing on the application on Jan. 23 before it makes a recommendation to the city council.

Other items on the planning commission's agenda Tuesday include the second hearing on a change from unclassified to planned community zone on 10.29 acres at the northwest corner of Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and Highway 101 where D. M. Christensen plans a large "convention center" motel.

Institute firms make parts for missiles, household appliances, heavy machinery, optical goods, textiles, trucks, radar machine tools, and dozens of other products. IRI also controls the state radio-television network, Italy's biggest shipping companies and the Alitalia Airline.

The Institute is not the only big state holding company. In recent years it has been overshadowed in growth by the Ente Nazionale Idrocarburi, built by the dynamic Enrico Mattei, who died in a plane crash in October. This National Hydrocarbon Authority started as an oil monopoly. Now it controls synthetic rubber plants, a newspaper, motels, restaurants, bars and tanker fleets.

Overblouse Tabbed Number One Trend In Spring Style

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Call it overblouse. Call it pullover. Call it a sweater jacket or an elongated vest.

By whatever name, it is the number one fashion for spring.

The overblouse or pullover look is endorsed throughout collections of trend-setting designers who this week show their new fashions to reporters. This is the 40th national press week sponsored semi-annually by the New York Couture Group.

During the week of concentrated showings 235 editors from the United States and Canada will see the full range of feminine apparel.

THE OVERBLOUSE LOOK also gets full-fledged support from other New York designers not in the Couture Group. These include Norman Norell, Gustave Tassell, John Moore and Jane Derby.

Short overblouses ride the midriff and show a high-rising waistband. Others graze the top of the hipbone. Still others are tunic length. They show in knits, tweeds, jerseys, crepes and chiffons, designed for all occasions. Sometimes the pullover is belted either with leather or fabric; sometimes it hangs freely, skimming over the bodice.

The Couture Group, spelled out the trends for spring this way:

S—Is for the shirt look. Also for shifts with shape. S is for the new softness in detail, such as ruffled tops, cowl necklines, and back ties put on like leis. S also is for seaming, simplicity, and sleevelessness.

P—Is for prints . . . huge geometric prints, stripes that melt into each other, zoo prints. P is also for prettiness, in the soft femininity creeping in . . . gathers in a skirt, puffed sleeves. P is also for purity of line and cut, and P is for pastels . . .

R—Is right for our times in fabrics that won't crease or crush. Feathery, spongy wools, and spring weight mixtures of silks and wools, synthetics combined with the naturals, and silks in tailored patterns resembling men's wear fabrics.

I—Is for individuality from each designer, showing in his or her exclusive fabrics, in other touches such as stoles, hoods and scarves.

N—Is for news in the skinny coat which comes in featherweight wool, silk or cotton. Some are shaped at the waist to follow the body line, and are single or double breasted. News in the waistline, "still a wanderer, sometimes high, sometimes naturally placed and marked with drawstring belts, sometimes slung low in back with a belt swinging, sometimes non-existent."

G—Is for glamor in clinging black silk dresses, in dinner suits looking as if they were tailored on Bond Street but made of four-ply silk crepes, in full length coats worn over matching dresses of lace or chiffon, and in the long, columnar evening dresses in silk crepe.

SHIP AHOY — A middy blouse tops this white silk crepe dinner gown by Geoffrey Beanne. The slim costume was modeled for fashion writers at the International Silk Show in New York.

Unrequested Smutty Mail Sent To Teen-Agers Quite Legally

"My son aged 17 is a fine young man," a father writes, "yet he is receiving some of the most filthy mail imaginable. The first letter contained samples of smut from a new periodical called the 'Magazine of Love.' The second gave some shocking quotations from a 'sex newsletter,' and asked him to subscribe. The third consisted of some nude photos of a girl, with a request that he send money for more pictures. He did not order this mail; it came without warning. He feels shocked and I feel outraged. Can such a thing happen in the United States of America? Is there a campaign to corrupt our youth, and undermine our country? Are other boys getting these letters? Are they legal? What can I do about them?"

I share your anger and dismay. I can't believe there is a deliberate campaign to corrupt our youth; however, the effect is the same as if there was one. Identical letters are going to thousands of decent teen-age boys. They are legal. Postal authorities tried to stop them and were overruled. We have had some very unfortunate court decisions recently, favoring the smut merchants. The effect has been to open the floodgates. Impressionable young people are being inundated with pornography. Nothing like this has ever happened before.

I've been waiting for national leaders to protest. They haven't opened their mouths. Perhaps they don't know what is happening. In that case our job is to tell them. I suggest you write to your congressman and your senators in Washington. Other parents should write too. We ought to tell our representatives what is going on, and ask them to enact stricter laws immediately. Congress has the power to do the job. Thank you for writing.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Does salacious literature really hurt anyone? Are not teen-agers pretty well immune?" — Mrs. G.V.

(A) Salacious literature hurts impressionable teen-agers. They are unsophisticated. Their instinctive drives are easily triggered. They need protection and aren't getting it.

SEW SIMPLE

Leather Tab Can Be Stitched To Coat For Buttonhole Aid

By EUNICE FARMER

"What can be done about plain buttonholes that have torn out of children's coats?" —Mrs. C.M.

Dear Mrs. C.M.: If you can find scraps of real or imitation leather, you can make a long tab, cut a buttonhole in one end, machine stitch to your garment and it will look as good, if not better than new with your original touch. Possibly felt could be used also; in either case, use a double layer. If you extend the leather tab beyond the finished edge of the coat, you will have to move the buttons over also.

"Now that everyone has wished everyone else 'happy holidays' and we have a few extra minutes, may I suggest a way of saving your valuable sewing tips. Take a loose-leaf notebook, using dividers for each of the many subjects covered and file in their proper places. I call my book my "Sewing Bible" and couldn't get along without it." —Mrs. C.E.

Dear Mrs. C.E.: Your suggestion is very good because I seldom repeat the same questions. May I also add my good wishes for 1963 to all my readers and although I cannot answer your letters personally, I love to hear from you and answer the most commonly asked questions.

Button Matcher: Cut a slash in a scrap of your garment fabric, the width of the buttonhole. Take it with you when you go shopping for buttons. Slip the fabric over a button and you can easily see how the button will look on the completed garment.

This suggestion is the tailor trix pressing board winner of the week for Mrs. Emma Butler, Ashland, Ore.

"Unfortunately I cut out a wool jersey dress just before I real your column about cutting this fabric that is woven in a tube and has two folded edges. Yes, you're right, I have a crease down the center front that I can't seem to get out. Do you have any suggestions for me?" —Mrs. M.H.E.

Dear Mrs. M.H.E.:

May I suggest you rub the crease with carbonated water or white vinegar. So many of our readers have written to tell me how wonderful the carbonated water worked in removing the crease from hems without leaving an odor, that I am sure it would work in removing the crease in your fabric. I'll be eager to hear how it works.

"In a recent article on sewing, they kept mentioning 'mounting the fabric.' What does this refer to?" —Mrs. B.L.

Dear Mrs. B.L.:

Mounting the fabric means using two layers of fabric as one. It is the same as underlining. The weight of the under-layer of fabric would depend on the stiffness you desire, which will be determined by the effect you wish to achieve and the weight of your fabric. Some of the fabrics you could use would be lawn, organza, and woven or un-woven types of interfacing in many different weights.

Each section of your pattern to be mounted is cut out of the two fabrics. They are basted together and front his point on, are handled as one piece.

Mrs. E.R. says:

"When tinting or dyeing material or articles of any kind, drop a spool of white thread into the dye bath at the same time. You will have perfectly matched thread and can save much shopping time trying to match the color.

If you would like the free leaflet which shows how to make bound buttonholes, send a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request for it to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal.

Please send all your sewing tips and questions to Sew Simple in care of this paper. You may become the proud winner of a tailor trix pressing board.

Males Winning Egghead Race

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Of the 10,000 Ph.D. degrees now being earned annually, only about 10 per cent go to women, reports Merritt Chambers, University of Michigan visiting professor of higher education.

"This may be partly due to the different biological roles of the two sexes," he said. "But it is assuredly also largely due to social traditions and prejudices which would be better overcome and forgotten."

"We could use to very great advantage more women physicians and surgeons, more women at high levels in the other professions, more women in all the scientific fields, more women in university and college teaching."

Lack Of Humidity Receives The Blame

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Just as, in summer, it's not the heat, it's the humidity, often in winter it's not the cold but the lack of humidity that makes life uncomfortable.

If you can't seem to keep warm indoors no matter what the thermostat setting; if you get static electricity shocks everytime you walk across a carpet; if hair and skin dry and chaf and the family seems to come down with one cold after another, chances are it's low humidity that's the culprit.

AIR CONDITIONING experts say many American homes in winter are drier than the desert. Along with heating, cooling, electronic air cleaning and odor removal, accurate humidity control is possible in most homes. A "humidistat" installed next to the thermostat puts moisture control on an automatic basis.

In addition to making the occupants more comfortable, proper humidity can cut down on heating bills. When a home is low on moisture in the air, the fuel bill can jump a full 10 per cent above normal, report the experts.

DRY AIR ABSORBS perspiration, makes you feel cool—even when the house is heated to a comfortable temperature. Boost the thermostat setting an additional 3 or 5 degrees and you'll boost your fuel bill—and continue to be uncomfortable.

The following check list determines the proper amount of humidity in a room. If your answers to the following questions are "yes," then, your rooms lack sufficient moisture:

IN THE WINTER, does your skin tend to flake, fingernails get brittle, hair become dull and unmanageable?

Do drapes and rugs shrink and stiffen, show wear faster? Do furniture joints weaken, painted walls and ceilings start to show cracks?

First Aid Suggested For Spotty Problems

BERKELEY (UPI) — Wine stains should be treated as fruit stains, says the University of California's home economists.

While the stain is still wet, spread a thick layer of salt over it, and leave for at least 1/2 hour. If a mark remains, run hot water under great pressure through the stain at a height far enough above the cloth not to harm fabric.

The last vestiges of a stain may respond to washing with a synthetic detergent or soap, the choice depending on the manufacturer's recommendation for the fabric involved. If the stain still shows, the home economists suggest using a bleach.

If South knows nothing about elephants he plays this hand unsuccessfully. He wins the second spade with the king and returns a club. Back comes a spade, and South leads another club.

WHICH?

Since West is out of spades he must lead a heart or a diamond to give his partner the lead. Which?

West cannot be sure, but he will lead a diamond. South needs heart strength for his jump to three notrump, but he may have nothing in diamonds if he has relied on his partner's diamond response.

The diamond return allows the defenders to collect seven tricks.

ENTER TOENAIL

An expert South looks for a way to make West lead a heart instead of a diamond at the crucial moment.

South must waggle a pink toenail under West's nose to make him see a pink elephant.

The king of hearts is just pink enough for the job. After winning the second trick with the king of spades South leads the king of hearts.

SWITCHES

Then South switches to clubs and continues with another club after the ace of spades has been knocked out.

West takes his second club trick and says to himself:

"Why did he lead that king of hearts? He was trying to knock out the ace, but my partner was too clever to take

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Peak Months For Viral Hepatitis Are Reached In February, March

Viral hepatitis is more prevalent in the winter months and usually reaches its peak in February and March. In this respect it differs from polio, which is a summer disorder. This is somewhat of a puzzle because both maladies are caused by a virus that lives initially in the throat, and later in the intestinal tract.

What can be done about this infectious disease? Learn to recognize the symptoms. It begins usually as an acute infection with fever, loss of appetite, nausea, tiredness, and vague abdominal discomfort.

AT THIS STAGE of the game it resembles an ordinary viral infection but the cause is suspected when the skin and whites of the eyes turn yellow. But the disease may not progress to the extent that the skin becomes discolored.

This poses a problem and many cases are undetected for this reason. The condition is suspected as mild hepatitis in the absence of jaundice when weakness, nausea, or abdominal discomfort persist longer than does an ordinary cold. Blood tests will be needed to make the diagnosis.

WHAT SHOULD be done for hepatitis? Rest is the best cure. Sanitary precautions should be instituted to prevent the infection from spreading to others. Use separate utensils, linen, and towels, as well as disposable paper cups and dishes that can be burned. The attendants should be careful to wash the hands thoroughly after attending to the needs of the sick individual. Meanwhile, the physician may suggest weekly blood tests to follow the course of the disease. The results tell when the individual can be up and about and resume work.

In some instances, gamma globulin is given to other members of the family as a protective measure. This is suggested for those in close contact with the victim, more so for pregnant women and persons in a poor nutritional state. They need this protection, even though it is only temporary.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Many Businesses Set New Highs During '62

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the quieter salesmen working for the stock market has been the reassuring behavior of profits.

The industries in which earnings have tumbled and dividends been cut—notably steel—are comparatively few. For the majority 1962 brought a rise in net income, even if a modest one in some cases. And, taken as a whole, shareholders have a comfortably larger total of dividend payments to spend—and to pay income taxes on.

Much of this has been lost in the glare of headlines stressing the more exciting, if more depressing, news: Steel's troubles, the stock market crash in late May, the failure of profits to soar instead of just increase as first predicted, and the many complaints that their present growth isn't enough to make industry as healthy as the nation's goals demand.

But the early reports and estimates show that many companies set new highs in 1962 and that a great many more bettered their performance than fell behind the 1961 figures. The majority of reports for the full year are yet to be announced, but at the nine months point total corporate profits were running ahead of the year before by about 9 per cent.

All of this has helped buck up Wall Street's confidence in the general economy, as well as boosting prices of individual stocks of companies doing particularly well.

Earnings are only one of many causes for the recovery of stock price indexes of the ground lost in the May and June breaks. Prices still are below their levels of a year ago, as measured by the indexes.

Confidence has been bolstered by the favorable turn

Naval Net Depot On Council Agenda

Carroll A. Snyder, executive secretary of the Marin County Development Assn., will discuss the use of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot at a meeting of the Belvedere City Council at 8 p.m. today at the Community Hall.

The council will also hear a report from City Atty. William H. Mackay on a request for a variance by Charles T. Mish-kind to permit relatives to occupy a separate apartment in his Corinthian Island home.

Two of antiquity's Seven Wonders of the World were sea-marks, are conceptions of lighthouses, the Colossus at Rhodes and the Pharos at Alexandria.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

This secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Bank Of America Branch Starts Off Year With Remodeling Job

Bank of America's San Rafael branch at Fifth Avenue and B streets has started off the new year with remodeling work on its mezzanine floor. Planned is installation of a new trust department. Heretofore the bank's Marin trust department has been part of the Santa Rosa district under Frank Collins.

When work is completed in two or three months this will be Bank of America's trust headquarters for the entire county with a staff of six or seven employees.

Trust facilities in Santa Rosa have also been expanded recently.

Bank of America's overall year-end statement for 1962 reported increased loans of more than 760 million dollars during the past 12 months. Deposits climbed more than 620 million dollars during the same period; resources moved up more than 681 million. Net operating earnings amounted to $2.92 per share and 81 new branch banks were opened last year.

JOHN DE VRIES, interior decorator now located in the Bon Air Shopping Center, Greenbrae, has started construction of his own building at 911 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. Completion in about three months is expected by contractor Ron Antonoli.

The building will be one-story, colonial-type construction with 2,800 square feet of floor space, basement and off-street parking. De Vries expects to use the extra room for more furnishings displays.

AL SANTOS, formerly in partnership with Neil Martin in the ownership of Shoreline Market at Shoreline Highway and Flamingo Road, Tamalpais Valley, has purchased Martin's interest. He's now in control of all retail business in the 21,700-square foot store erected in 1961. No change of personnel is contemplated.

Dick Hacke, former assistant executive of the Marin Council, will be principal speaker.

Boy Scout Council Dinner Tomorrow

The Southern District of the Marin Boy Scout Council will hold its annual recognition dinner at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

District officers will be installed by Paul Y. Dunn, scout executive of the council. Training awards to leaders and recognition awards to troops and posts will be presented.

Contractor Licenses
SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License board today announced it will issue contractor's licenses to the following, on or after Jan. 17, unless written protest is filed: J. M. Brennan Co. # Ground Gained In Aid To Voiceless

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Godfrey E. Arnold, a leader of scientific efforts to restore good working voices to poor-voiced and voiceless human beings, believes the ideal substance for injection into vocal cords has been found.

It is, of all things, one of the tetrafluoroethylene plastics well known by the trade name, "teflon," and widely used for many purposes. In this new and highly humane use, it is mixed with glycerin which makes it a paste that can be easily injected in relatively simple surgery.

Many speech disorders originate in the failure of the vocal cords to come together in that area of the larynx called the glottis. This failure can be due to a number of things but usually there is paralysis in one of the controlling nerves.

If the cords won't readily close and part as they vibrate, it becomes extremely difficult and even impossible to form and project intelligible sounds. The voice is squeaky and weak and the victim for practical purposes is often voiceless.

When you inject something into a cord with a paralyzed nerve you broaden and thicken it. This sometimes permits it to close against its mate and this will restore speech. What to inject has been the scientific problem.

It must stay where it is put for the life of the person, and so it must be chemically tolerable to body tissues and at the same time it should prevent body tissues absorbing it. And it has to be of fine composition so it can be injected.

Various substances have been tried and found wanting for one reason or another. Arnold reported to a technical organ of the American Medical Assn. that "teflon powder mixed with glycerin" seems to be what he and his colleagues have been looking for.

He is clinical director of the National Hospital for Speech Disorders and head of the department of research at New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. He reported how it has been tried out exhaustively in animals and then in a large number of patients with uniform success.

"There may be hoarseness during the first postoperative day," he said. "Thereafter the voice improves rapidly, soon showing the beneficial effects of the operation. The patient begins to talk with a better voice. It is louder, fuller, clearer and more pleasant."

Injection is by no means the whole answer to voice disorders, he emphasized. Before the technique is even considered there should be positive proof that the voice disorder is due to deficient closing of the vocal cords.

Even then it should not be used before all possible attempts at vocal rehabilitation by voice therapy have been made. As is well known, he continued, many persons can overcome vocal disorders by learning how to compensate with the larynx and to exploit the ability to hear one's voice and then correct its deficiencies.

"Injection should not be considered before six months have elapsed since the onset of laryngeal paralysis," he said. "Spontaneous recovery is possible within this time."

Huge Bridge May Link Sweden And Denmark

By BRACK CURRY

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden and Denmark are considering a mammoth project to link the two countries by bridge.

Its completion would bring a new "city of two nations" with a population of four to five million people. As one of the world's largest cities it would have immense commercial and industrial importance.

The project has wide official and public support. A committee appointed by the two governments has recommended construction of a mile bridge across the Oresund—the body of water that separates Sweden and the Danish island of Zealand. The bridge would cost 750 million Swedish crowns—144.8 million dollars—and would take 10 years to build, including preparatory work. The committee recommends that it run between the Swedish city of Helsingborg and the Danish city of Elsinore, at the narrowest point of the Oresund.

It would be of double-deck construction with a four-lane highway above for vehicles and rail lines underneath. Ships could pass beneath it.

The committee says this permanent link between Sweden and Denmark would so increase commercial and industrial activity that a population increase would naturally follow. It predicts that by the end of this century one fourth of the population of Sweden and Denmark will live along the Oresund.

Swedish and Danish proponents of the project visualize Copenhagen, Denmark's capital city with a population of one million, and the south Swedish port city of Malmoe, with 200,000 people, as basic components of this city spanning the Oresund.

Aside from these cities, there is plenty of space for development of a huge new community with industry, residential zones and recreation areas that would merge with the present cities.

The Danish Foreign Office Journal says: "An urban development such as this would be unique of its kind, even by international standards. Cities like New York, London, Moscow and Paris never had such initial facilities for town planning."

This would be one of the world's great port areas. Copenhagen, Malmoe and Helsingborg have first-rate harbor facilities capable of almost unlimited expansion.

It also would be a major air traffic center. Copenhagen has one of Europe's busiest airports at Kastrup, but this would not be large enough for a city of four or five million people. Planners want to build a new one on the flat island of Saltholm in the middle of the Oresund.

The joint Swedish-Danish committee submitted its report after an eight-year survey. It made no recommendation as to how the structure should be financed. Swedish and Danish private interests might finance it with the aid of foreign capital.

One question worrying the planners is whether it would be legal to construct a bridge across an international sea channel. Danish experts say international laws does not lay down any definite policy on the question.

The decision to build or not to build may come in 1963.

It is estimated that up to 10 per cent of the population of the United States has some degree of hearing deficiency.
